Action an Outrage, Declares Countess—British Consul Expected To Demand Her Entrance.

New York, February 9.—(AP)—The countess of Cathcart who figured with the Earl of Craven in two sensational English divorce cases—her own and his—was detained aboard the steamship Carmania by immigration authorities when she arrived tonight.

The countess said her detention was because she is divorced. Her husband divorced her four years ago, naming the Earl of Craven as correspondent. She was later named as correspondent in a suit brought against the Earl.

Will Marry Actor. That, she said tonight, is of the past, and no reason to keep her aboard ship overnight. The Earl has returned to his wife, and now is with her in Bermuda. His affairs no longer concern her, the countess said, and had nothing to do with her coming to America. Instead, she is going to marry Ralph Neal, an English playwright, next month. She said she hoped to spend five weeks in this country with friends.

By the by, she asked, "why have you a statue of liberty? We could see it as we came up the river, but what's the use seeing liberty if they are going to treat you as a criminal when you arrive?" "I think it is an outrage, my being held on this ship. I have done nothing in my life that I am ashamed of. I do think America has treated me terribly, and personally I think I have a powerful enemy in New York. The only reason I can see for being held is that I am a divorcee. There are twenty five million divorcees in the United States; why do they pick out me for this sort of reception?"

PARIS ATTORNEYS
READY FOR DUEL
AFTER FIRST FIGHT

Paris, February 9.—(AP)—Jacques Sadoul, recently reinstated in the bar association after revocation of his wartime sentence for treason, marked his re-entry into the Paris law courts today by knocking down a young lawyer, Guelfucci, who greeted him with the exclamation "Traitor!"

Guelfucci, who is a war veteran and a chevalier of the Legion of Honor, was struck six times and went to the floor, nearly unconscious. The bar association which voted Sadoul's reinstatement by a narrow majority is deliberating on the incident.

President's Device Brings Demand for Publicity for Cabinet Meetings.

Washington, February 9.—Relations between executive officials and the press are being discussed in many quarters here following attacks in congress on the device of the white house spokesman through which President Coolidge talks in the newspapers.

Further criticism of this method was heard in the house, where Representative Connally, Texas, spokesman, attacked the white house spokesman as a "phantom spook." Another democrat, Black, New York, presented a bill that would require full publicity for cabinet meetings by ordering proceedings printed in the Congressional Record.

Senate Leaders Predict President Will Be Forced To Yield Just as Senate Did.

DAVIS ATTEMPTED

Senate Favors Copeland Resolution After Hearing Story of Starvation In Coal Fields.

BY RAYMOND CLAPPER.

United News Staff Correspondent. Washington, February 9.—President Coolidge has refused to bend one inch under the rising pressure in congress and elsewhere for white house intervention to end the anthracite war.

Around the senate it is predicted he will have to yield finally, just as the senate did, and make some effort to stop the strike. Senators, speaking from very recent experience, assert the president will be unable to resist the pressure.

Secretary of Labor Davis has been working secretly to bring the operators and miners together to avert further embarrassment for Coolidge. Administration leaders in the senate tried at the last minute to get Copeland to change his resolution so that it would request the secretary of labor, instead of the president, to call the conference.

Daily the senate has fought off the Copeland resolution requesting the president to invite the operators and miners to the white house to discuss an immediate settlement. Each day the political pressure grew more intense. Finally, when the senators heard the tragic story of poor old Mary Harrington starving to death in the blighted anthracite industry up in Pennsylvania, they were so deeply moved that they voted 55 to 21 to turn the coal problem over to President Coolidge.

Without even waiting for the senate resolution, President Coolidge sent for the white house spokesman who said that the senate resolution did not change the situation, that the president would have called a conference long ago had he thought any good could result, that white house meddling probably would only make matters worse, and that the senate probably adopted the resolution to hush up Copeland so it would not lose so much time on the tax bill. Apparently President Coolidge feels

ENEMIES PLANNING TO IMPEACH SMALL

Fight on Governor of Illinois Is Result of Decision He Obtained $1,000,000 by Fraud.

Chicago, February 9.—Len Small's stormy career as governor of Illinois may be entering its final crisis as a result of the state supreme court's reaffirmation of its decision that he owes the people of Illinois $1,000,000 obtained by fraud while he was state treasurer five years ago.

Action to have Small impeached will be started soon by his prosecutors under that clause in the state constitution which provides that no person who fails to account for public funds entrusted to him is eligible to hold public office.

In reaffirming its original decision that Small must be held to account for the missing money the supreme court repeated its belief that the governor organized a fictitious bank for the purpose of enriching himself.

To this bank he is alleged to have loaned $30,000,000 of state money, turning some of the interest back to the state and pocketing the rest. The money was loaned at a high interest rate to Chicago packers.

At its March term the Sagamon county court will set the exact amount of the governor's liability.

Meanwhile Small's political lieutenants have undertaken to collect by popular subscription from the voters a fund large enough to relieve the governor of the $1,000,000 payment he must make.

At the same time the prosecutors of the treasury scandal are preparing to start impeachment proceedings in the Illinois legislature.

Settlement of This Question Will Open Way for Early Passage of Tax Bill, Experts Believe.

BLEASE THREATENS TO DELAY ACTION

South Carolina Senator Is Finally Persuaded To Withdraw His Objections To Vote.

BY THOMAS L. STOKES.

Washington, February 9.—The senate will act Wednesday on the last highly controversial feature of the tax bill, estate taxes, with their repeal a foregone conclusion. This will open the way for final consideration of a few minor provisions so that the bill should be passed Thursday or Friday.

After debating estate taxes all day Tuesday, the senate adopted a unanimous consent agreement to vote Wednesday at 4 o'clock.

Senator Blease, South Carolina, democrat, caused some consternation by objecting at first to the unanimous consent agreement on the grounds that Senator Couzens, of Michigan, had been imposed upon in a similar agreement Tuesday night. Blease, however, withdrew his objection when pressed and informed that it was agreeable to everyone else.

When Senator Smoot asked for the agreement Blease jumped up and said: "I object. I don't like the way things were done yesterday."

Several senators gathered about Blease's desk and he left them to go over and confer with Senator La Follette, of Wisconsin, on the other side of the chamber. Returning to his seat he announced that he would agree providing Senator Norris, of Nebraska, was given sufficient time to make a final speech. He was assured that Norris would be given ample time.

Night Session Called Off. Acceptance of the agreement made a night session Tuesday unnecessary, the senators finishing in time for dinner. The senate will convene at 11 o'clock Wednesday morning for final debate on the estate tax.

After action is taken on the estate tax, only automobile, admission and alcohol taxes will remain. While there is some controversy on these points, particularly on automobile and admission taxes, the debate should not be prolonged.

Republican insurgents gathered a handful of democrats and western republicans around them for a last stand on the estate tax Tuesday and will continue their fight Wednesday until the vote comes at 4 o'clock. Their attempt will be overriden roughly by the republican-democratic combination which has resisted successfully all efforts to make material changes in the tax measure.

Admitting their defeat, opponents of repeal are looking toward the conference on the bill later. The house retained the estate tax, but voted a reduction from 40 to 20 per cent in the maximum rate and enacted a provision for an 80 per cent credit to states on federal estate taxes. Chairman Green, of the house ways and means committee, announced Tuesday that he will hold out for retention of the estate tax in conference.

Compromise Seen. It appears now that the compromise that will be effected will provide retention of the tax with a maximum rate of 20 per cent as voted by the house and a reduction of the state credit from 80 to 25 per cent as in the present law.

Senator King, Utah democrat, said Tuesday that he will present an amendment to the house provision limiting the credit to 25 per cent. The 80 per cent credit for states, aimed admittedly at forcing states now within them to adopt estate taxes, is opposed by representatives from the three states which have no law, particularly by Florida. The other two are Arizona and Alabama.

Death Sentence Imposed for Murder of Girl Is Given Approval.

Washington, February 9.—(AP)—President Coolidge has approved the death sentence imposed by a court-martial in the Philippines on Second Lieutenant John S. Thompson for the murder of Audrey Burleigh, 18-year-old Memphis, Tenn., girl. Official announcement of his decision probably will be made within a day or two.

Lieutenant Thompson, a graduate of West Point, class of 1924, was convicted last May in Manila for killing the girl who at the time was visiting her stepfather, an officer in the army medical corps. Thompson quarreled with the girl, with whom he was in love, for taking part in an amateur theatrical production. He fired five shots from an army pistol at the girl, then surrendered to military authorities at Fort McKinley. He pleaded guilty and was sentenced to hang.

Many appeals for clemency, based on the ground that Lieutenant Thompson was insane, have been made to the president.

EUROPE PLANS TO USE COURT
IN BARGAINING

Several Members Believe United States Will Grant Concessions on Immigration and Tariff.

NATIONS MAY BLOCK
ENTRANCE OF U. S.

American Irreconcilables in Senate Are Now Planning To Carry Their Fight to Country.

BY HENRY WOOD.

Geneva, February 9.—Several members of the world court are prepared to bargain for immigration and tariff concessions from the United States in exchange for ratification of the senate's reservations to the court protocol.

Representatives of the various world court members accredited to the league estimate that from six months to more than a year would be required for their governments to determine the acceptability of the American reservations.

Commissions to Act. Each of the 48 court members would refer the reservations to a commission of jurists who would pass upon their judicial significance after considerable study. It also is certain that various governments which have questions such as immigration and tariff matters under discussion with the United States would endeavor to utilize acceptance of the reservations as a diplomatic exchange for concessions from the United States. Such procedure would entail lengthy negotiations which might defer America's participation in the court for several years.

Spokesmen of the various court members are convinced that the 48 separate judicial commissions to which the reservations would be referred would not reach identical conclusions. So long as any court member refused to accept the reservations American entry into the court would be blocked.

To Ask Advisory Opinion. For the purpose of avoiding such a long stalemate and likewise to simplify the procedure of admission, it is believed that some member of the league will bring the matter before the league council with a suggestion that the Hague court provide an advisory opinion regarding the acceptability of the American reservations.

If the court should render an opinion that the reservations were acceptable to all members of the league, it then would be possible for each of the various nations to use the court's decision as the basis of its separate reply to Frank B. Kellogg, the American secretary of state. It is believed that the nations would permit all interested nations to reach a unanimous decision within three months.

With the Hague court's approval stamped on the reservations, their bargaining value would be nil.

IRRECONCILABLES PLAN TO CONTINUE BATTLE

Washington, February 9.—(AP)—Senate irreconcilables on the world court discussed informally today plans for carrying their fight to the country.

Spokesmen for the conference said no conclusions had been reached; that the purpose had been to canvass the whole situation and to develop the views of several senators as to the course to be pursued.

The meeting was called by Chairman Borah, of the senate foreign relations committee, and was attended by all of those opposing American entry into the court, except Senators Watson, republican, Indiana, and Dill, Washington.

Senators attending the conference besides Senator Borah were Reed and Williams, Missouri; Blease, South Carolina; La Follette, Wisconsin; Brookhart, Iowa; Howell, Nebraska; Fernald, Maine; Moses, New Hampshire; Nye and Frasier, North Dakota; Schall and Shipstead, Minnesota; Johnson, California; Herrell, Oklahoma; and Johnson, Indiana.

Some of the irreconcilables already have made plans to wage campaigns against the reelection of senators who voted for American membership in the world court. This campaign will be opened in Chicago on February 21 by Senator Reed, democrat, Missouri, in an address before the Knights of Columbus.

Senator Borah will take up the fight the next night in a speech to the Cook county republicans. Both addresses will be broadcast to audiences in every section of the country.

Visitors Leave Atlanta Thursday for Trip to Macon and Kaolin Works In Wilkinson County.

RECEPTION GIVEN AT WOMAN'S CLUB

Dr. Robert W. Gardner Will Discuss Discoveries of Ancient Egyptians and Greeks.

Speeches by three outstanding Georgia citizens will be the leading features of the banquet to be tendered more than 400 members of the American Ceramic society at the Biltmore hotel tonight as one of the concluding events of that part of the society's 28th annual convention which is being held in Atlanta.

The speakers will be L. A. Downs, president of the Central of Georgia railway; Colonel Frederic J. Paxson, president of the Atlanta convention bureau and Eugene R. Black, prominent Atlanta lawyer and banker.

The banquet will be an informal and semi-social affair open to the public, although the speakers will discuss subjects of vital interest to the members of the society as well as to manufacturers, industrial men and others interested in the development and expansion of the ceramic industry in Georgia.

Thursday afternoon the visitors will leave for Macon, where they will be guests at a series of entertainments in that city and then they will go to Wilkinson county to inspect kaolin and clay deposits in that county.

At the banquet tonight, Dr. M. L. Brittain, president of Georgia Tech, will preside as toastmaster and short talks will be made by prominent members of the society. The delegates, including the women visitors, were guests at an informal social affair at the Atlanta Woman's club Tuesday night which included a reception, buffet supper and dancing.

The seven divisional meetings of the society will continue through Wednesday. These are almost wholly technical in nature and the discussions relate to various phases of commercial ceramics.

One of the most interesting events on the program of the society for Wednesday morning will be the speech of Dr. Robert W. Gardner, of New York, a member of the American Society of Architects. Dr. Gardner will tell of the discoveries of the secrets of the ancient Egyptians and Greeks in architecture. These discoveries were made about 20 years ago by Jay Handridge, of New York, according to Dr. Gardner who has conducted research work in this subject himself for a long period of years.

The wireless said psycho analysis was playing a stellar role in the ocean trysts, and that Mrs. Stillman was initiating James A. into the Freudian realm with speed and earnestness.

League of Nations Announces Geneva Will Be Site of First Preparatory Commission Meet.

Geneva, February 9.—(AP)—The League of Nations announced today that the first meeting of the preparatory commission for its international economic conference would be held at Geneva April 26.

This is the first definite news that the meeting will be held in Geneva, there having been uncertainty on this point since Russia announced that she would attend the league's gatherings only if they were held outside Switzerland. The announcement of this date and place is regarded as expressing the conviction of the league officials that the controversy between Russia and Switzerland will be adjusted, thus eliminating Moscow's objections to Geneva.

The Swiss federal government at Berne tonight published a summary of what it calls its final proposal to the soviet government concerning the assassination of the soviet envoy, Vorovsky, at Lausanne, May 10, 1923. The B. R. government, however, claimed that although this proposal is considered final it does not necessarily close the interchange, since nothing has been heard in reply from Moscow.

Through an intermediary channel, Switzerland has told Russia that she is prepared to declare that she regrets and condemns the assassination of Vorovsky as she has at all times past, and is disposed to examine the question of financial assistance for Vorovsky's daughter on condition that this is discussed together with Swiss claims against Russia growing out of the bolshevik revolution.

It is understood that the French government is using its good offices from Moscow in an attempt to secure an agreement. The exertion of this influence is considered all the more necessary since the Berne government has been careful to point out that it has reached the limit of its concessions.

Kent Cooper, Head of Greatest News Gathering Organization, Greets Friends Here.

Kent Cooper, general manager of the Associated Press, will be principal speaker this morning at a meeting of Georgia members of the Associated Press, to be held at 10 o'clock at the Capital City club.

The executive and directing head of the greatest news service in the world arrived in Atlanta Tuesday from Greensboro, N. C., and will speak today in the Georgia capital. The meeting this morning will be featured by a general discussion of newspaper problems and is expected to result in further improving the service of the Associated Press to the people of Georgia.

The Constitution will be official host to daily newspaper men and the distinguished chief executive of the Associated Press at the Capital City club at noon at a luncheon and at a box party at the Atlanta theater in the afternoon.

Following his Atlanta visit Mr. Cooper will go to Birmingham, thence to the Pacific coast, stopping en route to attend numerous state meetings of Associated Press members.

Mr. Cooper was elected general manager of the Associated Press a year ago, succeeding Frederick Roy Martin. He is one of the most popular men ever to rise to high executive position in the world news organization, and, rising from an humble position in the ranks of his organization, he is known as a man who won his way to the highest office attainable by his own talent and ability.

MOVE TO ENFORCE
BOARD'S DECISION
ALREADY STARTED

Education Board Votes 7 to 2 To Prohibit Teaching of Theory and Orders Probe.

FIGHT EXPECTED
FAILS TO DEVELOP

Committee Will Investigate Charges That Theory Now Is Being "Promulgated."

Teaching of evolution was outlawed in Atlanta public schools Tuesday afternoon when the board of education, by vote of 7 to 2, passed a resolution to this effect offered by Dr. Fred Morris.

Those voting against the measure were D. M. Therrell and W. D. Hoffman, while Dr. Morris, W. C. Slate, Mrs. Julia O'Keefe Nelson, Mrs. J. V. Peterson, Mrs. James W. Maddox, A. E. Wilson and W. W. Gaines cast their ballots for the proposal. Dr. R. M. Eubanks voted only in case of a tie and did not cast a ballot.

The measure is designed to not only prohibit teaching of the theory of evolution, but provides that a committee be appointed to investigate charges that certain teachers are now promulgating the theory in order that these alleged offenders may be halted before the board for trial.

What penalty would be imposed in case of conviction is not set out in the petition, but it is supposed that the offender would be stripped of his right to teach thereafter.

Received Calmly. Contrary to expectations at the time the resolution was submitted, it was received calmly by members of the board. Several of them smiled but no attempt was made to prevent its passage, and when the vote was taken only two cast ballots in opposition.

Dr. Eubanks, president of the board, will appoint a committee of three members to investigate charges of teaching of a "theory which would take from the majesty of God as the creator of the universe and of having created man in His own likeness and image."

The resolution also carried a clause declaring that it is not the intention of the board to permit teaching of any "doctrine not in harmony with the teaching that God created man separate and distinct from all other of His creations and that the Bible is not the inspired word of God."

To Publish Findings. A further stipulation of the resolution provides that if it is not found that the theory is being taught in the Atlanta schools the committee shall so report and make it "plain to the world that no such doctrine or theory is being taught or disseminated in the Atlanta public schools by any teacher either officially or unofficially in their capacities as instructors of the children."

Dr. Eubanks stated that he did not know when he would select the committee.

BLUE LAW SUNDAY LOSES ROUND ONE

Nashville, Tenn., February 9.—(AP)—The blue Sunday reign in Tennessee was partially overthrown today in Squire R. P. Reasonover's magistrate court because criminal instead of civil warrants were served for violations of the "ancient" blue law.

The squire dismissed 15 warrants against Nashville business concerns, including two daily newspapers, for Sunday operation in violation of a Sunday observance law passed in 1803.

One firm, a bootblack shop, pleaded guilty.

The quashing of the warrants, on motion of defense counsel, does not affect a test case against W. C. Thomas, carried before the grand jury yesterday for Sunday operation of a filling station.

The old Sunday observance law was invoked when the supreme court on January 30 declared filling stations were operating a merchandising business and held that there was no doubt they came within the purview of the statute. The warrants were served last Sunday.

Nashville druggists at today's meeting decided to follow the old slogan, "Business as usual," and open their stores next Sunday.

NEW CITY OFFICIALS NAMED BY COMMITTEE

S. S. Cochran was elected dairy and barn inspector of the city of Atlanta at a meeting Tuesday of the sanitary committee of city council and C. F. Carter was named to succeed him as sanitary inspector.

A committee of women headed by Mrs. R. L. Turman and representing the city beautiful committee of the Woman's club, asked that all stores, restaurants and other places of business at which perishables are sold be required to place refuse in closed metal containers. The committee also asked that 300 more cans be provided.

The committee voted to ask the purchasing agent to receive bids for four street sweepers for the city, these bids to be placed in the hands of the agent by February 20.

WHITE HOUSE SPEAKER SYSTEM IS ATTACKED

In mind to relieve distress. Representative Black said, "Congress would be greatly helped if it could read a few weeks later representing the cabinet officials on pending questions."

Black would require stenographic record kept of cabinet meetings. No such records are kept now, the discussions being entirely informal with no secretary present to make notes.

Sargent issued what is called his "gap" rule soon after taking office last March.

Information Barred.

"The imparting of confidential information to newspaper representatives and others outside the department is hereby interdicted," his order read. A few weeks later he ordered all United States attorneys and marshals throughout the country to be more rigorous in suppressing information regarding prosecution plans and evidence to be presented.

Washington correspondents have complained to Sargent a number of times about their inability to find out anything at the department of justice except what is fed out through the department's press agent. Sargent's press conferences have been almost totally useless to the newspaper correspondents because his answers to all important questions have been vague and lacking in information.

ity. His thorough familiarity with the entire Associated Press system, gained by personal experience, renders him particularly well fitted for the responsibilities and duties of his present position, it is said.

Prior to election as general manager Mr. Cooper was assistant general manager, and before that for many years was traffic chief. In writing of his record at the time of his election one year ago a fellow-member of the Associated Press staff declared that "if ever a man pulled himself up by his bootstraps, K. C. did."

The same writer pays glowing tribute to Mr. Cooper's service in South America, telling how when he was assigned to that territory he immediately set to work to prepare himself for the task by undertaking an intensive study of Spanish.

Out of Mr. Cooper's mission to South America grew an Associated Press membership on that continent, and has been stated that "the result of an exchange of unbiased and honest views will do more in a few years to establish an understanding and accord between the Americas than diplomacy can accomplish in a hundred years."

MUSSOLINI ANSWERS STRESEMANN TODAY

strations during the Italo-German deal in the Reichstag were disappointed, for Gustav Stresemann, the foreign minister, spoke mildly, though firmly, and the members of the house, with the exception of the nationalists and communists, conducted themselves with reserve.

Dr. Stresemann, who is most effective when speaking extemporaneously, and a rarely slow speaker in a low voice. The absence of most of the members of the cabinet, including Dr. Luther, the chancellor, from the ministerial benches, seemed like a pre-arrangement, while there were many empty seats in the body of the house.

Minister Is Notified.

Except for an occasional "hear, hear," when Dr. Stresemann cited the south Tyrolean wrongs and decried Mussolini's belittling of things German, he stirred his audience effectively only when he declared that, "Italian policy is incompatible with the spirit of the League of Nations. The nationalists and communists at this point broke into dissonant and ironical laughter, which nettled the foreign minister.

"We have no quarrel with the Italian people, who, according to Mussolini's own words, written in 1920, have no interests incompatible with the Germans," Dr. Stresemann said.

"German-Italian difficulties," as Mussolini then stated, always were due to misunderstanding and distrust—conditions of minds, rather than conflicting economic or political interests.

Going back to the genesis of the south Tyrolean problem, the foreign minister pointed out that the Italian government, before the advent of the fascists, and also the king, had promised the inhabitants freedom of language, religion and culture. He insisted that Germany had no political interest in the problem, but merely a cultural one.

Press Scored.

Deploping what he termed irresponsible newspaper utterances, and the unauthorized attempt by a small group of Munich business men to inaugurate a boycott of Italy, he stated that the government was unalterably opposed to such childish measures and was concerned in maintaining the best relations with Germany's neighbors.

Holding the unfair that Mussolini's speech as "filled with arrogance, contradictions and vehemence which attempts to hide the inner weakness of his position."

He insisted that Mussolini, who had in his career, and now derided German tourists, was ungrateful.

TWO VIEWS ARE TAKEN BY PEOPLE OF ITALY

Rome, February 9.—(AP)—How much fascist Italy depends upon the public utterances of government officials and official newspapers was never better illustrated than tonight when the text of a speech by Gustav Stresemann, the German foreign minister arriving after the newspapers had gone to press and the ministries had closed their doors, was read.

One section among those congregated by the thousands in the newspaper office, cafes and other meeting places of politicians, maintained that Stresemann's address, by completely recognizing Italian sovereignty in the upper Adige had "closed the incident."

The other faction which apparently was more numerous sided with the fascist views, characterizing the speech as "a direct further affront, which Mussolini knows how to answer."

LEAGUE TO PASS FRIDAY ON GERMAN APPLICATION

Geneva, February 9.—(AP)—A special session of the League of Nations council will be held at 3 o'clock Friday afternoon to pass upon Germany's application for membership in the league, and President Scialoja of the council, former foreign minister of Italy, expects to preside in person.

Senator Scialoja's decision to be in Geneva for this important event, according to information in Geneva tonight, has been confirmed by the controversy between Italy and Germany and Austria over the south Tyrol. As an affirmation of Italian prestige the presence of one of their own statesmen in the chair has become all the more important in the eyes of Italians in view of the Tyrol flare up.

The German government, through its consul here, informed the league today that its application for membership will be presented formally tomorrow.

he can ride out any trouble that the coal situation threatens.

Yet disquieting reports reach here from the Pennsylvania anthracite district. Police had to hold off a crowd of strikers around a washery near Scranton. Ministers in the Scranton district have petitioned Coolidge to step into the deadlock. Hundreds of private letters are coming to the white house and to senators pleading, begging, and threatening. The Pennsylvania assembly is trying to call the miners and operators into conference with the legislature.

Members of the house from anthracite consuming districts in the east, are in a panic. Fears political defeat next fall is forcing even the most conservative republican members in the house to activity. Pressure is being exerted on the house rules committee to rush through coal legislation. The senate committee on education and labor will meet Wednesday or Thursday to consider the Robinson bill, presented by the minority leader, which would authorize the president to invoke federal mediation in strike emergencies. Several house members have introduced the Robinson bill there.

The whole agitation here is obscured by a disgraceful orgy of back-passing and politics. The most thorough remedy is that contained in the Oddie bill, which conforms closely to the recommendations of the late U. S. coal commission for fact-finding machinery.

Secretary of Commerce Hoover denies that his delay in making a report on the merits of this bill is dictated by coal operators.

Underground talk about the influence of operators and financial interests has brought out in the house by Representative Boylan, New York, democrat. He said financial interests have pledged aid to coal operators in a deal which would organize labor. One well-known New York banker, identified with anthracite financing and coal-hauling railroads, is said to

KIDNAPING CHARGED TO KLAN BY BOWMAN

Chattanooga, Tenn., February 9.—(AP)—Lawrence Bowman, feudist, now on trial for attempting to kill Sam Godsey, Benton Godsey, opposing Bowman, in a gun battle near the police station on July 20, last, charged today on the stand that the Godseys and their associates kidnapped Bowman and Dr. W. D. Mason on Signal mountain and held them captive ten days chained to trees. Bowman and Mason were lured to the mountain by a fake telephone call, set upon and carried into the wilds a few months ago.

Bowman told a graphic story of the kidnapping and the battle with the Godseys, testifying that his foes began shooting which resulted in both of them receiving bullets in the legs. He said that the mountain feud between the Bowmans and Godseys which has led to one killing and a number of shootings, originated when he was a boy of 16, when Sam Godsey had him arrested for stealing chickens, and reached a climax when Godsey slew his brother, the Bowman, at dawn on Waldens Ridge, two years ago. He said that he had acted as a "spotter" for federal agents for eight years and "turned up" a number of stills operated by the Godsey clan.

The trial will continue tomorrow.

have brought together a group of bankers to support the operators during the suspension.

On the other hand some assert the operators and miners are ready to quit and will want someone to bring them together, and that the real influences discouraging action are the bituminous and coke interests who are profiting enormously by the anthracite shortage. Mellon and his associates are said to have such investments which are extremely profitable just now. The bituminous industry extends into a large number of states, including Pennsylvania, Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Kentucky, Tennessee, West Virginia and Virginia and influences in these states are against white house action.

The president also probably wishes to avoid being connected with the price increase that is almost certain to follow any settlement.

Behind the real influence is the president's innate aversion to government meddling in private business. His native caution makes him hesitate whenever there is doubt.

COUNTRY AROUSED SENATE IS CLAIM

Washington, February 9.—(AP)—"An aroused country woke up the senate," Senator Copeland, democrat, New York, said today in commenting on the sudden change of front by the senate on his coal restriction.

"This senate was gradually worn down," he said. "It had hammered into it that there is something in the world even more important than the protection of property—the protection of human lives."

"Back of it was the great public flooding it no doubt with telegrams and letters demanding action."

It was the public opinion by the press to my efforts here that made possible the ultimate adoption of this resolution."

MASSED DEMONSTRATION OCCURS IN PENNSYLVANIA

Scranton, Pa., February 9.—(AP)—First massed demonstration of the five-month-old coal strike occurred today when 500 miners marched on two warehouses here in protest against hydraulic production of coal, which their leader asserted was "taking the bread out of their mouths."

They were dispersed by 25 policemen armed with sawed-off shotguns. None was injured.

The police detained three men who identified themselves as leaders of the demonstration, but subsequently released them with warnings. At the same time Chief of Police Rose announced the establishment of a "riot squad" at police headquarters. He also sent for some ten gas.

Joe Santasario, of Dunmore, who led the march said tonight that the demonstration was not intended to be anything but peaceful and that he would make a full report on it to his district union officials tomorrow.

JOE JACK RETURNS TO FACE CHARGES

Pikeville, Ky., February 9.—(AP)—Joe Jack, Sr., has returned to this city from Hungary to face a murder charge brought as a result of the alleged murder-insurance plot and subsequent mine explosion at McCarr, Ky., January 17, 1925. Jack's son-in-law, William H. Turner, on whom $55,000 insurance was collected, and a son, Joe Jack, Jr., are in the Pike county jail here, also charged with murder.

Trial of the defendants is set for March 11 in the Pike circuit court. The specific charge is that of murder of Henry Wilson, one of the victims of the mine disaster. The identity of another victim, buried as Turner, has never been definitely established.

The case came to light several months ago when Turner, who said he received more than $100,000 on his own life, wrote from Hamburg, Germany, that he was returning to America to bare the facts in the case.

He was arrested in New York October 13. After his return to Pikeville, indictments were brought against members of the Jack family.

Turner said that he was taken to Europe by his father-in-law after insurance had been collected and that while in Hungary he heard of an alleged plot against his life. He applied to police in various European cities and finally consulted the American consul in Hamburg, who advised him to return to America.

Mrs. Turner is held in New Jersey by court orders growing out of attachment of her bank account and automobile by insurance companies. Mrs. Farley was released in Florida after a requisition for her return here was not honored.

HEART ATTACK FATAL TO GWINNETT VETERAN

Lawrenceville, Ga., February 9.—William H. Brogdon, age 81, died suddenly Tuesday afternoon while on his way home from a visit to this place.

Mr. Brogdon lived near Buford and was accompanied by his granddaughter on the trip here and after getting a few miles out from Lawrenceville, was seized with a pain near his heart and expired within a brief time. He was one of the county's oldest citizens and was a Confederate veteran, having served with the cavalry from Gwinnett county.

Mr. Brogdon is survived by the following children: Claude Brogdon, of Lawrenceville; Paul Brogdon, of North Carolina; Arthur Brogdon, of Buford; Truman Brogdon, of Atlanta; Mrs. Carrie Tarpley, of Atlanta; and Mrs. C. W. Houston, Canton. The funeral and interment will be at Level Creek near Suwanee, Wednesday at 11 o'clock.

RINSE WITH LEMON TO KEEP HAIR CURLY

When you shampoo your hair a curd is formed by soap. It settles on the hair and stays, no matter how frequently you rinse with plain water. The hair is sticky and unclean and loses its curl when that curd is there.

Rinse with the juice of two California lemons in an ordinary wash-bowl full of water, followed by a plain water rinse and note the difference. The lemon juice eliminates the curd completely. The hair is really clean. It keeps its curl.

Learn the effect just once and you, too, will always rinse with lemon. Get California Sunkist Lemons. They are heavy with the most effective juice.—Adv.

STRUCK BY ENGINE AGED MAN IS DEAD NEAR CECIL, GA.

Valdosta, Ga., February 9.—(Special.)—James Graddy, aged 70, of Cecil, Ga., was almost instantly killed when struck by a locomotive of the Georgia Southern & Florida railroad near his home today, according to information received here.

He was standing close to the tracks, it is said, and failed to notice the approach of the train. He was in feeble health.

Trammell's Recovery Doubtful Physicians State Tuesday Night

Dalton, Ga., February 9.—(Special.)—Little hope is held for the recovery of Paul B. Trammell, chairman of the Georgia public service commission, who late Tuesday lapsed into a state of coma at his home here. Physicians advised members of the family the end was near.

A native of this section, Mr. Trammell has been active in state political circles for many years. He is 69 years old.

4 out of 5 lose

RHEUMATISM, neuritis and other kindred ailments frequently follow pyorrhea, the dread disease of the gums. Yet carelessness makes pyorrhea all too prevalent. Four out of five suffer from it after forty, and many younger, according to your dentist's own figures.

To be among the fortunate few who escape pyorrhea, begin at once using Forhan's for the Gums. If used regularly and in time, Forhan's prevents or checks pyorrhea and safeguards your health.

It contains Forhan's Pyorrhea Liquid, which has been used by dentists for the last 15 years in the treatment of pyorrhea. It is a pleasant, cleansing dentifrice that the entire family likes.

Today is none too soon to start brushing your teeth with Forhan's. Buy a tube right away and don't give pyorrhea a chance. All druggists, 3c and 6c in tubes.

$22,200 INCREASES
APPROVED BY BOARD

Readjustment of salaries of clerks, statisticians and other employees of the Atlanta public schools who are not in teaching departments, balancing of the 1925 budget, and decision to absorb Ira Street school was features of the regular monthly meeting Tuesday afternoon of the Atlanta board of education.

day call for an annual increase of about $22,200 annually, but due to the fact that they do not become effective until March 1, the budget already carried enough to care for the small addition for 1926, it was said.

The budget was balanced by a vote to pay teachers' December checks on January 1, 1927, and by allowing deduction of approximately $310,000 from pay rolls during the latter part of the year. It was intimated that this money will be borrowed if no other means is provided to meet the expenses.

This method cuts a total of about $320,000 from the budget and permits balancing of the account. Teachers' salaries for December are approximately $210,000.

Board members voted to absorb Ira Street school over protest of W. C. Slate, of the second ward, who declared that it would work a hardship on citizens of that community. The roll call vote was six to three, and Mr. Slate changed his ballot and placed the board on notice that he will seek reconsideration of the measure.

Several protests against proposed consolidation of Commercial High school with Boys' High and Girls' High schools were read and filed.

STREET CAR STOP
PLAN DISCUSSIONS WILL BEGIN TODAY

Atlantians who are opposed to elimination of car stops on the street railway system in this city and others who are in favor of the plan of the Georgia Railway & Power company to speed up service by eliminating all unnecessary stops, will have an opportunity to be heard at a series of hearings which are to begin this morning before the Georgia public service commission.

The commission will hold these public hearings daily this week and as much longer as is necessary to consider each route on the system. Specific routes will be heard each day and the public is asked to attend only that hearing dealing with the particular route in which they are interested.

This morning at 10 o'clock, hearings on route 1, which is the Decatur street-Inman yards route, will begin. Routes 2 and 3 also will be disposed of today. Route 2 is the Ponce de Leon and East Lake road to Walker-West View line, while route 3 is the Auburn, Boulevard to West Hunter and Ashby street line.

Community Chest
Plans Year-Round
Education Program

A year-round educational program to more firmly establish confidence and good will toward the Community Chest and its 34 social service organizations was agreed upon at a meeting of the publicity and education committee of the chest Tuesday afternoon at the Chamber of Commerce under the chairmanship of J. P. Allen.

Representatives of the three daily papers were present, and agreed to present a unified plan of newspaper publicity to the committee at a later meeting. Chairman Milton Bell, of the chest executive committee promised early announcement of plans for next year's campaign.

SIBBLEY REVERSES
INITIAL DECISION ON ARCHER PAROLE

The law passed by congress permitting federal judges to place convicted prisoners under probation does not permit judges to allow prisoners to serve part of their sentences in jail and then be released for the remainder under probation, according to a decision rendered Tuesday by Judge Samuel H. Sibley in habeas corpus proceedings brought before him for the release of J. H. Archer, a federal prisoner. This ruling will have far-reaching effect among federal judges throughout the country as this was the first time the law had been tested.

Archer was convicted on a charge of violating the Harrison narcotic act and was sentenced to two years. Judge Sibley ordered him to serve six months in the federal prison and the rest of the term under probation. After Archer had served six months the question was raised as to the authority of the federal judge to impose such a sentence.

GUARANTORS BEGIN
ENROLLING NAMES FOR GRAND OPERA

Work of mailing cards to last year's guarantors inviting them to subscribe again, to the $125,000 guarantee fund for grand opera in Atlanta was completed Tuesday. Even before all of the subscription cards were mailed out, Colonel W. L. Peel, president of the Atlanta Musical Festival association began receiving subscriptions which were made following newspaper announcements that the books were open for those who wished to become guarantors this season.

It is anticipated that the guarantee fund for 1926 will be raised speedily and that virtually all of the old guarantors and many new ones will be on the list. No guarantee of less than $200 will be accepted. Subscriptions may be sent by letter to the office of Colonel Peel, 1001 Citizens & Southern Bank building or formal application blanks may be obtained at Colonel Peel's office or at the office on the second floor of the Cable Piano company, 81 North Broad street.

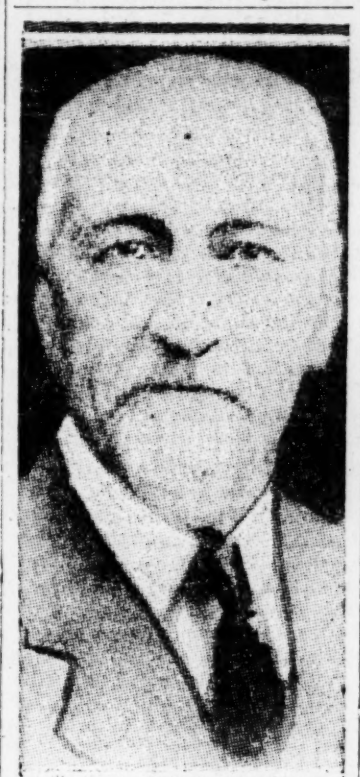

This year, as heretofore, all guarantors have the privilege of purchasing opera seats in advance of the opening of the public sale.

LAST RITES TODAY FOR JUDGE BELL

Funeral services for Judge George Lester Bell, one of the state's foremost jurists, of the civil division of Fulton superior court, who died Monday night at 7 o'clock at the residence, 26 Peachtree Way, after a brief illness, will be held at 10:30 o'clock this morning from the Inman Park Methodist church. Bishop Warren

JUDGE GEORGE LESTER BELL.

Candler and the Rev. Henry B. Mays will officiate and interment will be in West View cemetery with Barclay & Brandon in charge.

All courts in Fulton county were closed Tuesday out of respect for the memory of the jurist and today all judges of the superior and municipal courts will form an honorary escort at the funeral. Offices in the Fulton county courthouse will be closed also today.

The following will act as pallbearers: Judge Shepard Bryan, L. C. Hopkins, J. A. Branch, W. A. Fuller, Frankton E. Ellis and Sanders McDaniel.

Resolutions expressing sympathy for members of Judge Bell's family were unanimously adopted Tuesday at a meeting of the Atlanta Bar association. A committee will be appointed immediately to draft a suitable memorial on his life and work.

Members of the association will attend in a body.

John L. Tye, Jr., president of the Lawyers' club of Atlanta, also has appointed an honorary escort.

NINE PERSONS HURT IN SERIES OF CRASHES

Nine persons were injured in traffic accidents in and near Atlanta Tuesday, one of the injured being Miss Rose Watkins, 19, sister of Patrolman T. C. Watkins, of 360 Ormond street. Miss Watkins was struck down by an automobile almost in front of the home, according to the report filed at police station by her brother. The driver of the machine, Homer Browner, assisted Miss Watkins to the hospital. The negro was arrested.

Julian Dodd, 24, of 224 South Pryor street, was treated at Grady hospital for a badly bruised hip and shoulder suffered in a collision between his motorcycle and an automobile at Highland and St. Charles avenues. No report was filed at police station.

Mrs. E. Greverus, of 72 Rosedale drive, had her left arm broken when struck down by a street car as she was crossing Edgewood avenue at "Five Points."

Little Evelyn Edwards was injured when the automobile driven by her mother, Mrs. P. M. Edwards, was overturned near Smyrna. Mrs. Edwards was slightly hurt. She was driving the machine and applied the brakes too quickly in an effort to avoid striking Helen Thornton, a little girl who was crossing the road. She suffered bruises on her leg as the machine struck her.

Charles Oaks, of Johnson City, Tenn., driver of a car bearing the Milligan college basketball team, of Johnson City, was slightly injured in a crash with a car near Clarkston. The team was on the way to Atlanta to play a game with the Tech team. None of the players were hurt.

Lawrence Elms, 17-year-old messenger boy, was injured when a bicycle he was riding crashed into the rear of a truck.

E. E. Austin, of 405 Maple street, suffered a broken leg and minor injuries when struck by an automobile said to have been driven by Lincoln McConnell, president of the Macon Chamber of Commerce. The accident occurred at Main and Church streets. Mr. McConnell carried the injured man to the hospital and reported the accident to county police. No case was made.

COX WILL ADDRESS
OFFICERS OF 122D
REGIMENT TODAY

Adjutant General Charles H. Cox will be principal speaker at a meeting at noon today at the Ansley hotel of officers of the 122d infantry, discussing special matters in connection with the approaching federal inspection of "Atlanta's Own" national guard regiment.

The luncheon meeting will be held in the rainbow room of the hotel and those in charge stated Tuesday night that preparations have been made to care for between 30 and 40 officers of the regiment.

CASEY FINED $50
FOLLOWING FIGHT AND CAR CRASH

Fred Casey, arrested Monday night on a charge of drunk and disorderly conduct as the result of an automobile-street car crash on Luckie street, was fined $50 and costs Tuesday in recorder's court.

Arrested with Casey Monday were Mrs. Kate Willis, 38, and J. E. Tumlin, 30, all of 216 Luckie street. Mrs. Willis was charged with disorderly conduct and Tumlin with reckless driving. The cases against Mrs. Willis and Tumlin were dismissed by the recorder.

WALKER TO DELIVER
TRIO OF ADDRESSES

Teeth Made White
—glorious, gleaming!

Your gums like coral to contrast them—just remove that dingy film, see what happens

Please accept 10-day tube to try

HERE are beautiful teeth for the asking. Those dazzling clear teeth that add so immeasurably to one's personality and natural charm.

Millions have found them in this new way. Dental authorities urge it. In a few days you can work a transformation in your mouth. Dull teeth thus are made to glisten. Gums are firmed and given a healthy, coral color.

Now a test is being offered. Find out what can be done with your teeth, quickly, amazingly. Just mail the coupon.

Film—that's the trouble

Dental science now traces scores of tooth and gum troubles to a germ-laden film that forms on your teeth.

Run your tongue across your teeth and you will feel it—a slippery, viscous coating.

That film absorbs discolorations from food, smoking, etc. And that is why your teeth look "off color" and dingy.

It clings to teeth, gets into crevices and stays. It lays your gums open to decay. Germs by the millions breed in it. And they, with tartar, cause pyorrhea.

Mere brushing won't do

Ordinary dentifrices and cleansings won't fight film successfully. Feel for it now with your tongue. Note how your present cleansing method is failing.

Now new methods are being used. A dentifrice called Pepsodent—different in formula, action and effect from any other.

Largely on dental advice the world has turned to this method.

Removes that film. Firms the Gums

It accomplishes two important things at once: Removes that film, then firms the gums to healthy coral tint.

A few days' use will prove its power beyond all doubt. Send the coupon. Clip it now before you forget.

sumes its hearing in the corporation's affairs.

The hearing today was adjourned for two weeks to give George G. Barber, chairman of the Continental corporation, an opportunity to gather the data on interstate trade. Only 13 of the companies controlled by the Continental corporation are engaged in interstate commerce, Mr. Barber testified.

Data on this trade was sought by the commission to determine whether the corporation's control of the companies resulted in a lessening of competition and created a monopolistic condition.

Adjournment followed questioning by A. R. Brindley, counsel for the commission, from Mr. Barber his business relations with William B. Ward in the various baking concerns and with which Mr. Barber has been associated in the past quarter century.

Prince Paul May Assume Grecian Throne, Report

(By Leased Wire to The Constitution and The Chicago Tribune.)

Chicago, February 9.—Prince Paul of Greece, who has made Chicago his headquarters for many days, mingling freely in all social and other affairs, departed with his suite for New York and France today. There were significant rumors, however, that his ultimate destination was Greece and its throne.

It was openly hinted by friends of the prince that the Venizelos party is again on its way to power in Greece and that a determined effort will be made to stabilize the country and put an end to dictatorships by again offering the throne to Paul, who is strong with the Greek republic.

Once before he was offered the throne by Venizelos, but declined on the ground that he was too young and inexperienced to assume the responsibilities.

In New York the prince will meet Nicholas Murray Butler, president of Columbia university; Bishop Manning and other prominent men. In France he will be the guest of the Hellenic league.

Law Enforcement Is Up To Citizens, Hartfield Says

Declaring that the people of Atlanta are responsible for enforcement, or non-enforcement of laws in the city, William B. Hartfield, chairman of the police committee of city council, in an address before the Lions club Tuesday at the Ansley hotel, urged the members to register and vote.

Mr. Hartfield referred to his declaration in council several weeks ago, in which he said the Atlanta police department should be investigated. He reiterated that he had seen two motorcycle officers and two police riding in a city police car on liquor through the streets of Atlanta.

HOUSE BODY VOTE FAVORS PAY RAISE FOR U. S. JUDGES

Washington, February 9.—(AP)—A bill to increase the salaries of all federal judges was approved today by the house judiciary committee.

The measure would raise the salary of the chief justice of the United States from $15,000 to $20,000, and the salaries of associate justices of the supreme court from $14,500 to $20,000. District judges would be raised from $7,500 to $12,500. Judges of the circuit court of appeals would receive $15,000 instead of $8,500.

Other federal jurists would receive increases as follows: Court of claims, $7,500 to $15,000; court of appeals, District of Columbia, $8,500 to $15,000; supreme court, District of Columbia, $7,500 to $12,500; customs trial court, $9,000 to $12,500.

25 U. S. CONVICTS HERE TO BE SENT TO ALDERSON, W. VA.

Washington, February 9.—(AP)—Attorney General Sargent announced tonight he had ordered the transfer of thirty-five convicts from the Atlanta federal penitentiary to be used in construction work at the new federal woman's reformatory at Alderson, W. Va. The convicts, the attorney general said, would be employed in road building in the reformatory grounds.

ART DEALERS COMING TO PLAN LOCAL SHOW

Thomas Agnew, London art dealer, and Franklin Houston, New York representative, are expected to arrive in Atlanta next Saturday, and will be the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Nesbitt Evans, at 38 East Fourteenth street.

They will discuss plans for an art exhibition with representatives of the art association, the chamber of commerce and the woman's club.

One Bandit Slain Two Are Injured In Gun Battle

Chadwick, Ill., February 9.—(AP)—One bandit is dead, one is dying. One is wounded and two others are in custody after a gun fight near here today. The quintet, including Alfred Fairfield and Frank Sawyer, had attempted to shoot their way through a posse. Fairfield and Sawyer were fleeing after an escape from two Clinton, Iowa, deputy sheriffs this morning.

The gun fight terminated a spectacular flight across the Mississippi river from Clinton, Iowa, where three confederates of Fairfield and Sawyer held two deputy sheriffs while the prisoners rode away in an automobile.

The two were being returned to jail after receiving a sentence of from one to 25 years in prison for payroll robbery.

As it by arrangement Fairfield and Sawyer calmly stepped into the automobile while their three friends kept the officers under guard. After the two departed, the trio of confederates leaped into another automobile as the deputies fired. One of the rescuers was wounded.

They obtained a good lead upon their pursuers and were well into Illinois before the chase was organized. Responding to telephone calls, officers in surrounding counties organized posses and had the bandits hemmed in in less than two hours. Receiving word of the approach of the bandits, the posse started westward to intercept them.

About two and a half miles west of Chadwick the fleeing bandit car was seen.

The road was blocked. As the bandit party arrived, one jumped out of the machine and opened fire. Roy Hartman, a posseman, returned the fire. The bandit dropped dead.

The posse's volley mortally wounded another bandit.

The remaining three surrendered. Fairfield and Sawyer were unhurt. Death of the wounded bandit is expected momentarily.

HEAVY RAINS INUNDATE PART OF ENGLAND

London, February 9.—(AP)—A large part of England again is under water. The floods in some portions of the country exceed those of January. Out of the past 22 days there has been only one day without rain. The last two weeks have been exceptionally wet.

Virtually every river in the midland and southern districts has overflowed its banks. Many thousands of acres of low-lying ground and parts of several towns are flooded, stopping street-car traffic. The weather indications continue to be for rain.

For 18 Years Man Has Gas On Stomach

For 18 long years L. A. Champion had stomach trouble and was bloated with gas. Some told him he had catarrh of the stomach. Since taking the mixture of buckthorn bark, glycerine, etc. (known as Adlerika) he is better and the gas is gone.

Many people keep the OUTSIDE body clean but let their INSIDE body stay full of gas and poisons. Give the inside a REAL cleaning with the mixture of buckthorn bark, glycerine, etc. as sold under the name of Adlerika. This acts on BOTH upper and lower bowels, eliminates all poisons and removes old matter which you never thought was in your system, and which caused sour stomach, nervousness, sleeplessness, headache, etc.

Whenever you eat too much heavy food, let Adlerika REMOVE the undigested surplus and leave you feeling fine. ONE spoonful before (A.M.) and twice after that full, bloated feeling. Even if your bowels move every day, Adlerika brings out much additional matter which might cause trouble. Don't waste time with pills or tablets but let Adlerika give your stomach and bowels QUICK relief.

What Doctors Say.
Dr. G. Eggers reports Adlerika is the best medicine he has used in 37 years.

Dr. W. H. Bernhart writes he could not get along in his practice without Adlerika.

Dr. J. J. Weaver, a doctor for 50 years, says he knows no medicine better than Adlerika.

Dr. L. Langlois prescribed Adlerika regularly with good effect.

J. E. Pickett writes: "After using Adlerika I feel better than for 20 years. AWEIL! Impurities were eliminated from my system."

Adlerika is a big surprise to people who have used only ordinary laxative and stomach medicines because of its REAL and quick action. Said by leading druggists everywhere.—(adv.)

Masked Stars of Filmdom VALUABLE PRIZES WILL BE GIVEN WINNERS Interest Hundreds of Fans

Five famous screen stars wearing masks are appearing in the third week's group shown in The Constitution's Masked Players contest now in progress at Loew's Grand theater and tricks used in presenting them to the public are proving hard to solve in many instances.

This week's group is the third to be shown and next week the fourth and last group will be offered, then the judges will begin their task of selecting the names of the 200 winners of The Constitution's prizes which aggregate more than $600.

Episodes presented in this week's group are cleverly conceived.

Go to Loew's Grand theater and see this week's masked players. Fill the coupon you may cut from this newspaper and mail it to the masked players contest editor at the end of the contest.

Contract for the Stone Mountain road will be let on March 12, it was stated, and completion of this link will give a paved highway all the way from Atlanta to the monument.

Contracts for the unpaved balance of the Atlanta-Macon highway will be let April 1, it was stated.

Congressman W. D. Upshaw was in conference Tuesday afternoon with committees from the Stone Mountain Monumental association and DeKalb county and discussed means of expediting federal funds for paving these highways.

A. A. C. CAGERS DOWN J. P. C. IN HARD GAME

BY ROY E. WHITE.
Inconsistent free shooting robbed Jewish Progressive club of victory in its second basketball game with the Atlanta Athletic club, Tuesday night, A. A. C. winning, 28 to 25, on the Georgia Tech court in one of the roughest games of the season.
The game—a grudge affair—gave Atlanta Athletic club a difficult ties and settled all argument as to the better of the two, but victory was due to cleverness in sinking free shots, in which A. A. C. excelled.

It was a rough struggle from the beginning: 27 fouls were called, 11 on J. P. C. and 16 on A. A. C. Many of the fouls were result of hard playing and no unnecessary roughness was shown during the game and three players were ejected because of four fouls. Both teams were fighting with all the basketball ability possible.

At the end of the first half the basket and converted only five of those 20 attempts into points, while A. A. C. was given 12 free shots and made 10. The game was not so easily could have won the game with any consistency at all, but lacked the necessary accuracy.

A. A. C. Proves Better.

The field goal shooting was the same. Each club scored 10 attempts.

The game was a rough game and teamwork took 11 more fouls.

Playing on practically even terms in the first half, with the exception of the free shots in which A. A. C. was the better, Captain Bennett's A. A. C. quintet began a drive in the second half that put it six points in the lead. Near the close of the game, three A. A. C. players were ejected because of fouls, and it was then that J. P. C. began a consistent drive towards a victory that ended only three points shy of a tie score.

second unit, the work of rat Stephens was by far the best. He was high scorer with 10 points to his credit. Captain Bennett and Latimer also played good basketball, and they too were ejected. Latimer at guard was exceptionally good. He held the J. P. C. forwards well under cover during his stay.

played good offensive basketball for the losers, Spielberger leading his team in scoring with eight points. Filkenstein was second, with seven points. Seigel played well at guard for the losers.

Even with three of its best players out of the game because of personal fouls, the A. A. C. team fought hard all the way.

ZBYSZKO WINS OVER KOLOFF IN GREAT BOUT

BY H. C. HAMILTON.

Atlanta showed itself Tuesday night to have been converted to a great extent to the business of wrestling, when Wladek Zbyszko met and defeated Dan Koloff, the so-called Russian lion, in a bout which for thrills and fireworks scarcely could be equaled. A crowd of about 600 was present at the city auditorium.

Zbyszko, just off a train after a hard trip from New York, found himself to be up against the real thing in the stocky St. Louis Bulgarian. In fact he won the first fall only to hear Referee Eddie Hanlon, whose work as a referee of wrestling left something to be desired, call him the loser in the second fall.

The first fall of the star bout fell to the famous Polish heavyweight after 27 minutes and 10 seconds of wrestling, the fall being scored after four flying headlocks had slammed the powerful and hard-fighting Koloff to the mat in resounding fashion.

For the second fall Koloff came out much fresher than had been expected of him and after 15 minutes and 57 seconds of lunging about the ring Koloff clamped a double arm bar on his Polish opponent and hung onto it so tenaciously that Referee Hanlon finally patted him on the shoulder. There was some doubt expressed about the ringside as to the validity of the fall, but probably was called correctly by Hanlon.

Zbyszko Ends It.

The third and final fall came after 20 minutes and 10 seconds of wrestling. Despite a bad cold and a general exhaustion caused by riding all the way from New York Zbyszko entered the ring for his final encounter with his Bulgarian opponent determined to end the proceedings as rapidly as possible. Despite furious rallies, which ranged from deadly and punishing toe-holds to headlocks and flying falls, the final arm bar was fastened upon the Bulgarian and the match was over.

Following the battle between the two spectacular heavyweights Zbyszko, still panting from his ring exertions, held the crowd while he delivered a speech in which he thanked the Atlanta audience for its attendance and expressed the hope that he might again wrestle here some day.

John Maxios, Chicago Greek, won from Martin Blacklock, of Atlanta, in the semi-final, punting him in one fall after slightly more than 20 minutes of wrestling. The pair were well matched and supplied the crowd with an entertaining exhibition.

The second program produced by John Contas was opened with a six-round boxing contest between Hollis Sullivan, of Marietta, and Young Harper, of Dublin, Ga. The latter proved to be no match of the Marietta boy, who cut him down with destructive left hooks. Harper, still trying hard to rise to his feet, was counted out in the third round. In spite of his knockout the boy appeared to have class.

Plan New League In South Georgia

Columbus, Ga., February 9.—(Special.)—Discussions held by representatives from four cities at a meeting here indicate that the movement for organization of a baseball league is sweeping toward success. Columbus, Montgomery, Jacksonville and Albany had representatives at the confab.

Columbus, Montgomery and Jacksonville seemed solidly back of the new league plan, with Albany practically sure. A meeting has been called for Tuesday in the latter city, and the question will then be definitely decided as to whether Albany will accept the league berth invitation.

Further activities in the matter of organization will be held in check pending the outcome of the Albany meeting. Baseball advocates will then head in the direction of Pensacola, Savannah and possibly Waycross or Selma, to feel them out on the league proposal.

The proposed league includes Columbus, Jacksonville, Montgomery, Albany, Savannah and Pensacola. In event the latter city fails to come through smaller towns are being held in reserve.

A. L. MAGNATES JIGGS DONOHUE OPPOSE RESIN CAUSED ROHE FOR PITCHERS TO LOOK GOOD

Washington, February 9.—(AP)—The use of resin by American league pitchers will not be permitted this year, the club owners of the league ruled today in unanimously opposing the rule recently adopted at a meeting of the joint rules committee of the major leagues in New York.

The magnates, without exception, opposed the rule on the ground that such modification would influence the regulation of other freak deliveries which were abolished in 1920.

Ran Johnson, president, in explaining the action, said the league could nullify the action of the joint rules committee if it was unanimously approved.

Asked how the action would affect the world's series competition, since the National league has voted for use of resin, President Johnson said special rules would have to be adopted for the series.

No action was taken on the league's suggestion to extend the contract of Commissioner K. M. Landis for a period of 10 years at the expiration of his present seven-year term.

Landis' name was not even mentioned, said President Johnson.

Tulane Protects Football Situation

New Orleans, February 9.—(AP)—Clark D. Shaughnessy today signed a contract to coach football at Tulane university for the next ten years. The contract, which was the first formal agreement the football coach has had with the Tulane authorities in his ten years at the institution, ended negotiations with several other universities, notably Indiana, who have been making his services since the close of the last football season.

In announcing that he will remain at Tulane, Shaughnessy said he will continue to limit his activities to football.

After his 1925 team went through the season without defeat, only one tie, breaking a string of victories, Shaughnessy's name was mentioned in connection with several coaching positions.

Following is the sixty-sixth installment of the life story of Hugh A. Jennings, formerly manager of the Detroit Tigers.

BY HUGH A. JENNINGS.

CHAPTER 67.

The most inspiring world series here was Jiggs Donohue, captain and first baseman of the Chicago White Sox that beat the Cubs for the world's title in 1906. I have mentioned Donohue in previous chapters, but Donohue deserves a chapter all by himself. As players went at it, Donohue was not a star. He was a good fielder, but not a good hitter, and yet his play in the 1906 world series was the finest ever delivered by a first sacker.

Rohe was playing third for Chicago. As I recall him Rohe had the reputation of being the weakest third sacker in the majors, and he must have been, for early the next season he was sent back to the minors in spite of the stellar work he did in the world series of the previous October.

Rohe's world series work consisted of fine batting and hard throwing. He was valuable for his hitting, but he would probably have cost the White Sox the series by his bad throws had it not been for the super-fielding of Donohue. The first sacker kept Rohe from being a world series goat and made him a hero. Also, in the same breath, it must be said that Rohe's bad throwing made Donohue a hero, for he caused Donohue to make more spectacular plays than any first baseman ever crowded into a series before or since.

Jiggs' Great Play.

It was in the final game of the Sox-Cubs series that Donohue pulled off what many in the Sox dugout never made by a first sacker. It would be difficult to imagine a better play. The Sox were playing under a two-run lead in the eighth inning. Big Ed Walsh had started the game, but "Doc" White relieved him later on. The Cubs could not hit the left-handed delivery of White and so they started a bunting attack, shoving all their bunts toward third. Rohe had thrown high, wide and wild at every opportunity, and the Cubs expected to win on his bum pegs. Sheekard was on first when Schulte rolled the ball to third. Rohe grabbed the ball and threw high over first. Donohue made a marvelous jump and just managed to stab the ball. He saw Sheekard starting for third; he also saw that third was uncovered, as Rohe had forgotten to go back to the bag after fielding the bunt. Donohue saw another thing. George Davis, shortstop for the Sox, was running just ahead of Sheekard, trying to beat him to third. In the minute fraction of a second he grasped the situation, half-steadied himself and threw. Davis was running with his head turned to first for the throw. He wanted to see the ball and be ready as soon as he reached the bag to catch it.

Donohue timed the speed of Davis to an inch. He shot the ball just ahead of Davis so that, running as he was, the veteran shortstop ran right into the ball and grabbed it while going at top speed. The ball reached Davis about 10 feet from the bag and an instant later Sheekard crashed into Davis; but the fielder had tightened his grip on the ball as soon as he caught it and he tagged Sheekard as the runner hit him. Davis was tossed into the air and fell in a heap, but did not lose the ball. They thought he was hurt, but before anyone could get to him he staggered to his feet and continued through the ninth. The play saved the day for Chicago.

Rohe Made Him.

Rohe, as I have observed, helped make Donohue a brilliant star in that series. A few times Donohue almost broke his neck going into the air or diving after Rohe's wild throws. At the close of the last game Donohue rushed across the diamond and threw his glove in Rohe's face.

Never again did Donohue reach to the level of play he showed in that series.

Kid Broad Held In Boxer's Death

Stanford, Conn., February 9.—(AP) Walter Broderick, of this city, known in boxing circles as "Kid" Broad, was arrested today charged with manslaughter following the death at the Stamford hospital of "Tiger" Smith, of Norwalk. Smith's death resulted from blows received in a boxing bout.

A blow in the stomach in the third round sent Smith to the canvas and when he failed to recover consciousness he was taken to the hospital, where he died three hours later.

Princeton, N. J.—The vocabulary of the Princeton senior averages 1,000 words, an increase of 300 words from the previous year.

Rain Forces Halt In Tennis Tourney

Cannes, February 9.—(AP)—All of today's matches in the Carlton lawn tennis tournament were postponed because of rain.

The anticipated singles finals between Suzanne Lenglen and Helen Wills will not take place before next Sunday.

Hoff Withdraws From Indoor Meets

New York, February 9.—Charles Hoff, of Norway, is out of running for the remainder of the indoor track season. He says he was rather sore after performing in three events at the Millrose games in New York last week, the pole vault, the mile and a special relay race. From now on he will engage only in pole vaulting.

Because of illness Johnnie Gibson, of Fordham, crack runner, has withdrawn from indoor competition.

McQuillan Drops Suit With Club

New York, February 8.—(AP)—The New York Giants today announced an agreement with Pitcher Hugh McQuillan under which the latter has consented to discontinue a suit for unpaid salary in connection with his suspension last year. McQuillan also has come to terms for the 1926 season, and will go south with the other players February 18.

McQuillan, one of the leading pitchers of the National league in 1924, was suspended by Manager John McGraw on July 1, 1925, for failure to keep in proper condition. He entered suit last August to recover $2,038, which he claimed was due him as salary.

Harvard Football Committee Resigns

Cambridge, Mass., February 8.—The Harvard graduate advisory football committee has resigned because its recommendation for a head coach to succeed Robert T. Frazier, resigned, was rejected. It became known today. The resignations of the five members of the committee were accepted.

LOCALS OPEN AT NASHVILLE; HERE APRIL 15

Faring as well as could be expected under circumstances which make it profitable to jump in and out of Atlanta for the accommodation of financially weaker clubs which play Sunday baseball, the Atlanta baseball club placed its o. k. on the Southern league schedule for 1926 Tuesday.

Fourteen Saturday games will be played at Spiller's field, weather permitting, and one holiday double-header will be played for local fans. Several other double-headers are on the playing program, but none falls on a holiday date with the exception of Monday, July 5, when New Orleans will be the attraction. The Crackers' season opens April 13 in Nashville. The home series brings Chattanooga here April 15.

Of the 14 Saturdays carved for the home grounds on the Cracker bill four of them will be occupied by the Chattanooga club, a circumstance probably much to the liking of the Lookouts.

Birmingham will be here one Saturday, Chattanooga four, Little Rock two, Memphis two, Nashville three and New Orleans two.

Mobile will close the season here with a double-header on September 14. Nashville is entered for a pair of performances on June 15.

For the foreign efforts of the Crackers the schedule makers went through some awe-inspiring gymnastics. For instance Mobile will play the Crackers here July 1, 2 and 3, immediately following which the two clubs will entrain for Mobile and will play there Sunday, July 4. With that game out of the way the Crackers again will climb aboard a rattler and beat it back to Atlanta to engage the New Orleans club in the July 5 double-header. Twice the Crackers are called to open series here against Chattanooga, only to leap overnight into the Tennessee city to play Sunday games.

The weary clubowners and secretaries laid aside their pencils and other schedule-making tools long after dawn had cracked Tuesday morning and announced that a decision had been reached. Then began the task—that of John D. Martin, league president—of preparing the news for the newspapers. By the time that was accomplished most of the magnates either were well on their way home or had sunk to slumber in hotel rooms.

I've got mine, Boys!

YOU'LL say so when you discover what a perfect peach of a home-rolled cigarette P. A. makes. Pull up a chair and pull down your vest and get an earful of this sweet music about a better cigarette tobacco. We're talking about Prince Albert, you bet.

First off, P. A. rolls easier. It's crimp-cut and stays put. All of it goes into the papers . . . every fragrant, nut-brown grain . . . not into your lap or all over the floor. It burns better for the same reason. Doesn't go out as soon as you lay it down.

And you won't lay it down often when you discover that wonderful taste of real tobacco. Cool. Fragrant. Friendly. The Prince Albert process cuts out bite and parch pos-i-tive-ly. Get a tidy red tin or a toppy red bag today and you've got the best there is for cigarettes.

This goes for pipes too. If you've envied the fellows who have found pipe-contentment, just see what a wonderful difference P. A. makes in the bowl of a jimmy-pipe. Pipe or cigarette, your tobacco troubles are over when you sign up with Prince Albert.

Credit Men Launch Move For Big Protection Fund

Plans for a whirlwind three-day campaign to raise $250,000, Atlanta's quota for the national credit protection fund being raised by the National Association of Credit Men, were laid at a meeting Tuesday night of the Atlanta Association of Credit Men at the Ansley hotel. Eugene R. Black, president of the Atlanta branch, was principal speaker.

Eleven teams will take the field this morning, asking what C. L. Williamson, secretary of the association, declared are not subscriptions but premiums to insure receivable items of each firm's books.

Under plans for use of this fund which is to total $1,750,000 nationally, the national association will maintain trained investigators at 25 "key" cities in the United States, with Atlanta to be one of these cities. Investigators will be sent out whenever a creditor reports his belief that a given failure has been fraudulent in character.

Expenses of the investigation are to be paid out of the fund which is being raised and each creditor of the concern investigated is to be charged his share of expenses, based on ratio of liabilities.

Georgia's quota in the campaign is $50,000, of which Atlanta is asked to raise one-half. The first report of results will be made at a luncheon meeting at the Ansley at noon Thursday.

H. S. Collinsworth, general chairman of the campaign committee, presided over the meeting. Secretary C. L. Williamson explained details of the plan and answered questions regarding administration of the fund.

Three Men Injured As Cage Star's Car Figures in Accident

Three men, all residents of Social Circle, Ga., were injured Tuesday morning when their automobile was struck by another machine operated by Charles Onks, member of the baseball quintet of Millikan college, Johnson City, Tenn.

Harvey T. Bray received a broken collar bone and E. T. Bray and W. L. Edwards sustained cuts and bruises about the face and head.

Riding in the car with Onks were four other basketball players, here for a match with Tech's team, but they escaped unhurt. Onks was arrested on a reckless driving charge and a Deatur magistrate fixed his bond at $250. He attributed the accident, it is said, to a blowout, causing him to lose control of the machine. The injured men were en route to Atlanta and the college boys have started to Stone Mountain to see the big memorial.

TRI-CORNERED RACE FOR COMMISSION POSTS

Two new entries in the Fulton county commissioner's race were announced Tuesday when Robert E. Lee Cone, member of the city landing field commission, and Charles G. Turner, former chairman of the Fulton county commission, declared their candidacy.

Mr. Cone for the past few years has been a member of local and national aviation committees of the American Legion and is governor of Georgia of the National Aeronautics association.

Mr. Turner, well-known in business and political circles. The race for county commissioner is now three-cornered. Edwin F. Johnson, present chairman of the public works committee of the county board, having paid his entrance fee Monday.

W. W. Austell Leaves $20,000 Memorial Fund To First Presbyterian

The First Presbyterian church of Atlanta was bequeathed $20,000 in the will of the late William W. Austell, which was filed in probate Tuesday in Fulton county ordinary's court. The sum will be known as the "Alfred and Francis memorial fund" in honor of Mr. Austell's parents and his late brother, Alfred Austell. The estate is valued at $100,000.

Other bequests include $250 each to the Presbyterian, Methodist and Baptist churches of Austell; $200 each to the Episcopal and Christian churches of Austell, and $175 to the three negro churches of Austell. Earl Austell, a son, and his daughter, Idolene Austell Watts, get the remainder of the estate, which will go to their heirs.

More Than 75% of the Million Dollars A Day Taxer Paid by the Railroads Goes to State and Local Governments

The steam transportation lines of the United States are now paying taxes at the rate of $42,000.00 every hour of the twenty-four, Sundays and Holidays included, the gigantic total of approximately $365,000,000.00 per year.

While this budget covers Federal, State, County and Municipal taxes, it is a significant fact that the welfare of the community in which you live is affected to the extent of 75% of this great total. In other words, 75c out of every dollar taxes paid by the railroads goes into state and local treasuries, and every time you buy a railroad ticket or ship a consignment of freight you are contributing to the development of your community and the prosperity of your state and nation.

These tax funds are used to defray the operative expenses of all branches of our Government. They are used to build roads, to operate schools and to support public institutions. For many years past the amount of money paid in taxes by the steam railroads has exceeded that paid in dividends to the owners of railroad securities.

Remember these figures and compare them with the relatively small taxes paid by the bus and truck lines, which are operating over roads built and maintained partly by railroad taxes and which are competing with the steam carriers for your patronage.

Be fair to the railroads—they are affording the American people the greatest transportation service in the history of the world—and at the lowest cost.

In 1925 the L. & N. Railroad paid taxes amounting to over seven million dollars, a sum substantially greater than the dividends paid to its stockholders.

RATES ON PEACHES DECLARED TOO HIGH Cotton Market Is Higher After Further Liquidation

Macoon, February 9.—(AP)—With cross-examination this morning of R. M. Gilliland, of the Capital Service bureau, of Washington, D. C., who took the stand yesterday, before Examiner Fuller, of the interstate commerce commission, in the investigation of freight rates on peaches, the entire case of the complainant will have been completed, it was announced late today by attorneys for the growers and shippers.

A recess was taken this afternoon until tomorrow morning because of the slight illness of Mr. Fuller. Mr. Gilliland qualified before the examiner as an expert witness on traffic and rates. He presented 25 exhibits showing that by comparison with rates on other perishables, particularly meats and poultry, of far greater value than peaches, the peach rates are entirely too high.

It also was brought out by the witness that Georgia peach growers pay a higher rate on peaches than is assessed from any other point. The witness showed that one railroad in particular, the Southern railway, in 1924, had a property investment of $504,090.570, on which its net operating income was 6.343 per cent, and its net operating income in excess of 5.75 per cent was $2,933,416. Following the cross-examination of Mr. Gilliland, which may take several hours, the carriers will open their defense and lawyers for the railroads say that it will take two days to present their case.

Further liquidation in near months of the cotton market today, in which March contracts sold off to 20.09 or 17 points net lower. New crop positions held relatively steady, selling only a few points below yesterday's closing quotations. Near month losses were partially recovered in late trading, March closing at 20.22. The general market closed steadily, net 4 points lower to 6 points higher.

The market opened steady 10 points lower to 15 points higher, with near months relatively easy. March contracts for sale at 50 points over May, 1924, had a property investment of $504,090.570, on which its net operating income was 6.343 per cent, and its net operating income in excess of 5.75 per cent was $2,933,416. Decatur, February 9.—(Special).—Decatur city commissioners Monday night decided to call a special election in the middle of March on the proposed $170,000 bond issue for municipal expansion and for erection of a new grammar school in south Decatur.

Funds obtained from the issue are designed to build a new water main from the pumping station to the city hall to cost $32,500, to install new sewers and to make extensive improvements at local schools. City officials say the present digest of property values amply provides for the issuance of the bonds.

The commissioners adopted the annual budget and this will be placed before citizens of Decatur at a mass meeting February 22, at the DeKalb courthouse. This custom has been in vogue for many years and the citizens will be asked to express views on the administration.

Dr. F. T. Hopkins was reelected a member of the school board.

DECATUR TO BALLOT ON BONDS IN MARCH

Can Soars To New High In Stock Market Rally

and Anaconda, Calumet and Arizona and Utah advanced a point or two. Oils were under heavy accumulation with California Petroleum, Sinclair and Standard Oil of California in the forefront of the advance. Sulphur, Sugar and Leather stocks also gave good exhibitions of group strength.

Trading in the automotive issues was featured by a jump of over 5 points to a new high record at 50-5/8 by Moto-Meter "A." Hudson and Jordan each advanced a point.

Strength of several specialties seemed to bear a close relation to values as disclosed by earnings statements for 1925. Revival of activity and strength in Loft, Inc., which advanced 25-5/8 points to 11, the highest price in years, followed publication of reports that 1925 sales exceeded $8,000,000, a new high record. Outstanding industrial strong spots included Allied Chemical, American Smelt, Electric Power, International Harvester, Eureka Vacuum, Fairbanks-Morse, Jewel Tea, Market Street Railway Prior Preferred, Monahan Power, National Lead, Remington Typewriter, Sloss-Sheffield, Union Pacific, United Cigar Stores, U. S. Cast Iron Pipe, U. S. Industrial Alcohol and United Fruit, all up 2 to nearly 6 points.

Heavy buying of "Katy" common, which crossed 47 to a new high record, and the strength of anthracite carriers, were the only features of the rail list.

Commodity markets displayed a firmer tone. Wheat rallied more than a cent a bushel on short covering. Cotton closed four points net lower in loss during the day. Heavy sugar advanced 1-3/4 of a cent a pound and coffee futures moved up 5 to 21 points.

Cash money held steady at 51-1/2 percent, although "outside loans" were reported as low as 5 during the afternoon. Banks are reported to have called about $25,000,000 additional in loans during the day. Time money and commercial paper rates were unchanged.

Foreign exchanges moved irregularly lower. Demand sterling eased slightly to 48-1/8 and French francs sagged to a new low level for the year at 3.67 cents. The Canadian dollar went to a discount of 7-1/8 of one cent, also a new 1926 low.

California Picking opened at 155 and then broke to 143-1/2 in further reflection of the announcement that the Postum cereal company had withdrawn its bid of $185 a share for a majority interest in that company. Postum closed 2 points lower at 140-3/4 at prompt and late February shipment at 4-57 and about 50,000 bags for prompt and late February shipment at 4-30.

The high spot market led to increased buying in raw futures and final prices were 2 to 3 points net higher on active positions. Prices for prompt and late February shipment with Cuban and European connections, demand 4-61, cables 4-61, 2-75; September, 2-64; December, 2-60. Refined was unchanged to 5 points lower. Hestonations now ranging from 5-3/4 to 6-3/4 per cent granulated. Business was light.

Formation of a new copper export association stimulated activity in the copper shares. American Smelting climbed more than 4 points to 142-1/2.

Sugar.—An advance of 1-3/4 cent occurred in raw sugar today with the Great Britain market. Sales in closed 20,000 bags of Cuban for late February shipment at 4-57 and about 50,000 bags for prompt and late February shipment at 4-30.

Money Market.—Foreign exchange steady. Quotations (in cents) Great Britain demand 4-56, cables 4-56, 10-day bills on Canada 4-82; France, demand 3-58, cables 3-58; Italy, demand 4-61, cables 4-61; Belgium 4-54; Germany 23-50; Denmark 20-22; Sweden 20-22; Norway 20-22; Switzerland 20-22; Poland 14-04; Greece 14-44; Poland 13-50; Czechoslovakia 2-96; Yugoslavia 1-74; Austria 1-41; Rumania 4-11; Brazil 14-75; Tokyo 4-50; Shanghai 7-51; Montreal 20-15; Bar silver 67 1/2; Mexican dollars 51 1/2.

Cottonseed Oil.—New York, February 9.—Reports of sales of crude cottonseed oil in the valley and better demand for cents as well as a rally in grain checked selling in the cottonseed oil market today and prices advanced on efforts by shorts to cover. The close was steady at 8 to 10 points advance. Sales 7,000 barrels. Prime crude 9.00@10.00; prime summer yellow spot 11.00@11.75; Molasses 10-10; May 11-22; July 11-31; September 11-42.

New Orleans, February 9.—The market for cottonseed oil futures was very quiet and somewhat easier at the start but moved later on owing to a better tone in land and a small advance in crude oil. The trade thought the actual was also somewhat better. Prime summer yellow oil closed at 10-65, or 5 points up and prime crude closed at 9-11 to 9-12, or up about 1-16 cent. Futures closed steady: 20-77; December 24-62; Switzerland 10-20; July 10-76 and September 10-54.

Rubber.—New York, February 9.—Rubber closed easy; smoked ribbons, spot, 67 1/2; March, 67 1/2; April-June 64 1/2.

J. M. High Company Completes Plans For Second Annual 'Swallow' Sale

An official of the J. M. High company is shown above giving instructions to new additions to the big sales force in preparation for the "Swallow" sale which will begin Thursday morning, commemorating the second year of the "New High's."

Immense Stock of Merchandise Will Be Offered at Reduced Prices of From 10 to 50 Per Cent.

Offering more than $1,000,000 worth of the finest quality merchandise the new J. M. High company department store will open Thursday for the second annual "Swallow" sale, in commemoration of the first birthday of the "New High company."

Unprecedented slashes in prices, ranging from 10 to 50 per cent, are promised for the sale, offering to Atlantans and other Georgians, a class of goods rarely displayed by any southern retail house.

The primary purpose of the sale as outlined by officials is to celebrate a year of unprecedented prosperity and expansion of the company, and to add to the already long list of friends which the store now enjoys. To this end every effort of officers and employees has been bent.

Today the store will be closed while employees reprice and rearrange the large stocks and perfect other arrangements for Thursday's opening. More than 100 additional salespeople have been trained to render that intelligent and courteous service that is expected of High's.

President Brittain's Plans.
"Every department in the store will offer exceptional values at this sale," said W. H. Brittain, president of the firm. "Not only our thousands of steady customers but all Atlanta and the surrounding communities are invited to take part in this—the greatest event of its kind ever staged in this section."

"We are going to make High's the most democratic store in the entire south. Practically all employees from president to office boy are united in the new and greater High's as stockholders. High's has the finest store spirit. I verily believe, of any concern in the world. It is composed of a group of the hardest working, most conscientious and the most loyal people it has ever been my experience to know. High's is just one big, happy store family, all working as a unit to one common end. Like the three musketeers of Dumas novel, 'All for one and one for all.' The spirit of the organization is simply wonderful. Members get behind every movement as one man and their loyalty is truly inspiring. It is a genuine joy to be associated with such an organization as High's."

"This 'High spirit' has been focused around the idea of being of real service to the community, Atlanta and the surrounding section. In this connection I would like to quote a noted captain of industry who has said that fundamental honesty is the arch of business success. He says: 'There is no reason why you should succeed if what you do does not benefit others. If you ask yourself why you are in business and can find no reason other than 'I want to make money,' you are in business without sufficient reason. A business which exists without sufficient reason is due for an early death.'

"The single reason for the existence of any business must be that it supplies a human need or want, and, if my experience is worth anything, a business which has this reason for existence will be bound in the end to prosper."

"That is the spirit of the new High's. And this spirit has been united in a common purpose—to give this section a sale of stupendous values and at the same time to put the new High's over big."

"Our representatives in big markets have been buying for this event for months past and we shall place at the disposal of our patrons a class of merchandise which is not surpassed. Immense Buying Power.

"Our New York affiliations give us a buying power of more than a hundred million dollars. This enables us to buy quality goods at lowest possible prices. We have foreign connections in London, Paris and Berlin. Our last year's business exceeded that of 1924 by $500,000. We aim to make this year a million-dollar increase over 1925," President Brittain asserted.

When High's doors are opened Thursday morning the store will be found appropriately decorated and every employee ready to begin one of the greatest sales of department store stocks in the city's history. Every department in the High organization, which has more first floor space than any other concern in Atlanta, will participate in the sale. Even this large space will be augmented in the near future, it is announced, by construction of $75,000 in improvements and additions.

In addition to Mr. Brittain, other executive officers of the firm are G. C. Jones, vice president and treasurer; Paul H. Jones, secretary and superintendent; and D. H. Petet, auditor.

PATROLMAN RECOVERS FROM CONVICT'S SHOT

Patrolman Eugene Head, who was shot at 140 Luckie street, December 2, by Fred Copeland, an escaped convict from Madison county, while attempting to arrest the convict, was on duty Tuesday for the first time since being wounded. He was given patrol duty on the midnight watch.

THREE YOUTHS HELD CHARGED WITH THEFT

Three young men in a coupe were arrested Tuesday by Detectives Jimmy Doyle and Oscar Ballard, charged with stealing the automobile. They gave their names as Manuel Burchell, 21; Robert Miller, 18, and William McDonald, 17, and are being held pending instructions from Morrisstown, Tenn., authorities.

TWO AUTOS COLLIDE; ONE DRIVER INJURED

Collision of a sedan and a heavy oil truck at the intersection of Whitehall and Stewart avenues resulted in injuries to R. J. Reagan, of 549 Horton street. Reagan, the driver of the sedan, who was severely shaken up and cut by broken glass, refused to go to the hospital for treatment. The oil truck was operated by Z. L. Murdock, of 484 Sylvan avenue.

Patrolman R. P. McCortley, who investigated the accident, made a charge of reckless driving against both drivers.

BODY OF MRS. PEARCE SENT TO WARRENTON

The body of Mrs. L. C. Pearce, 83, of 355 East Hunter street, who died Sunday at the home, Tuesday was sent to Warrenton for funeral and interment.

Mrs. Pearce is survived by three daughters, Mrs. G. M. Humphries, Mrs. J. W. Desshin, of Duluth, and Mrs. J. W. Rider, of Crawfordville; two sons, N. H. Pearce, of Suwanee, and H. S. Pearce, of Warrenton, and a brother, M. C. Roberts, of Oklahoma.

BENJAMIN A. CRANE IS DEAD AT ATHENS

Athens, Ga., February 9.—(Special.)—Benjamin A. Crane, well-known Athens business man and member of a prominent Georgia family, died at his home on Cobb street Tuesday morning after an illness of about a week.

Mr. Crane was 49 years old and very active in the cotton business, in which he had been engaged since his graduation from the university in 1897. His death was due to pneumonia.

Funeral services will be held Thursday at the home. Dr. E. L. Hill will conduct the services. He is survived by his widow and three children and three brothers, George, Will and Rufus Crane.

NEGRO IS FINED $200 FOR HAVING WHISKY

William Morrow, negro, who lives on Tyler street, charged with violating the prohibition law, was found guilty Tuesday by a jury in the criminal court of Atlanta and was fined $200 and given a 12 months' suspended sentence. Judge Jesse M. Wood presided.

It was charged that Morrow had in his possession seven gallons of corn whisky in a trap concealed under the floor of a chicken house.

TRAFFIC PLAN TOPIC FOR SAFETY COUNCIL

"The York Through-Traffic Plan" will be discussed at 12:30 o'clock today at the regular weekly luncheon of the Atlanta Safety Council at the Ansley hotel, according to George Diebert, secretary.

The personnel of several important committees will also be announced at the session, it was stated.

SPANISH VETS NAME HOME COMMITTEES

Mrs. A. O. Woodward, president of the Helen Gould auxiliary No. 1, of the United Spanish War Veterans and Mrs. William J. Waldrip, president of the Theodore Roosevelt auxiliary, were named Tuesday as a committee of two to name subcommittees among women to further the campaign to locate in Atlanta a national soldiers' home. They are clothed with full power to select the committees from women both in and out of the organization. Each committee will select its chairman.

KIWANIS HEAR REV. MARVIN WILLIAMS

The Rev. Marvin Williams, pastor of Wesley Memorial church, was principal speaker at the regular weekly luncheon of the Kiwanis club Tuesday at the Ansley hotel. Kiwanians from distant cities who are attending the convention of the American Ceramics society, were guests.

FEATURES ON PROGRAM FOR BOY SCOUT WEEK

Participation in Atlanta in the activities of National Boy Scout week will take the form of a special program of interest to Boy Scouts at the Junior matinee sponsored by the Atlanta Better Films committee at the Howard theater next Saturday at 9:30 o'clock. Announcement to this effect will be made by all scout masters at the Friday night meetings of the scouts.

The program, as announced by Mrs. Newton C. Wing, matinee chairman, has been under preparation for the last month. The feature film, "The Mark of Zorro," with Douglas Fairbanks as the hero, is called "the perfect moving picture," because it contains exactly the right proportion of comedy, tragedy, romance and action.

Included in the program will be a scout film showing Atlanta scouts in various activities, and an atmospheric prolog will demonstrate the scout work of two of Atlanta's troops under the direction of their scout masters.

Lovely Brides of The Week Are Honor Guests Tuesday Evening

Three buffet suppers, honoring as many lovely brides of the week, featured the social calendar Tuesday evening. Mr. and Mrs. Guy Woolford entertained at their Springdale road home in compliment to Miss Mary Bardwell, whose marriage to Leonard Ely Murray will be a social event taking place Saturday afternoon.

The guests included the members of the wedding party. Supper was served from a beautifully appointed table, heralding spring in its charming decorations of pale pink rosebuds combined with white narcissi and tulips. Following supper, the guests played bridge.

Miss Jenkins Feted.
Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Jenkins were hosts at a bridge-supper honoring their lovely daughter, Miss Laura Jenkins, who will be wed today at noon to John R. Kruze, of New York.

Mr. and Mrs. Jenkins entertained the members of the wedding party, following the church rehearsal, at their home on Lee street. Bridge was played during the evening, followed by supper served buffet style. Bright yellow calendulas and white narcissi formed the decorations throughout the home. Mrs. Jenkins was assisted in receiving the guests by Mrs. Capers Andrews, aunt of the bride.

Honoring Miss Snow.
Miss Mary Elizabeth Snow, whose wedding to Eben Fletcher Tilly will be a beautiful event taking place at 4 o'clock this afternoon at the home of her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Thompson, was the charming honor guest at the buffet supper given Tuesday evening by Mr. and Mrs. Walter Dillon at their home on Piedmont road.

Mrs. Walter Scott Thompson and her visitors, Mrs. Bullock and Mrs. Vineyard, assisted in receiving the guests, who included the members of the bridal party and a few out-of-town guests.

Mrs. Dillon was gracefully gowning in blue georgette. Supper was served from a handsomely appointed table featuring the color scheme of green and white carried out in early spring flowers. Following supper the guests enjoyed dancing and little Miss Virginia Dillon, daughter of the hostess, gave a solo dance, "Rosalie."

New York Visitor To Be Honored.
Mr. and Mrs. Warren Davidge, of New York, who have been guests of Mr. and Mrs. William A. Speer, at their home on Peachtree road, left Monday to visit their relatives, Mr. and Mrs. Linton A. Dean, in Baltimore, and will return to Atlanta the latter part of this week.

Mrs. Speer will entertain at luncheon Friday at the Piedmont Driving club in compliment to Mrs. Davidge, covers to be placed for a number of prominent society matrons.

Friday Mrs. Speer will again entertain Mrs. Davidge as a luncheon at the Piedmont Driving club.

Mr. and Mrs. Davidge will leave next week for a stay in Florida before returning to their New York home.

Mrs. John Raine To Be Honored.
Mrs. John Raine, who leaves the latter part of February for an extended European tour, will be honored at a series of informal social affairs prior to her departure. Mrs. W. C. Boyer has invited a few close friends of Mrs. Raine for luncheon Friday at the Biltmore hotel.

Mrs. Elizabeth Winslow Bates is giving a luncheon today in compliment to Mrs. Raine at the Piedmont Driving club, covers to be placed for a group of intimate friends of the honor guest.

Mrs. Raine will sail from New York February 25 on the S. S. Adriatic, stopping at Mediterranean ports en route to the Holy Land and Egypt. Sailing back to Naples, she will motor to Rome and will enjoy a tour through the Latin countries.

Following a stay in England Mrs. Raine will sail May 29 on the Mauretania from Southampton, arriving in New York June 4.

Mrs. Jarvis Is Club Hostess.
An event of interest on Tuesday was when Mrs. Melville S. Jarvis entertained the members of her mah jong club at her quarters in Fort McPherson.

Miss Johnson Given Birthday Party.
Miss Margaret Johnson was honored Tuesday afternoon, the occasion being her twelfth birthday, by her mother, Mrs. Thomas Johnson.

Heart dice was played and the attractive Valentine motif was carried out in the decorations and refreshments.

Miss Jane Crandall Given Party.
Little Miss Jane Crandall was honored on her seventh birthday at a party given by her mother, Mrs. Fred Crandall, on Tuesday afternoon at her home on Fourteenth street.

A group of young friends were invited to meet the young honor guest from 3 to 5 o'clock.

Benefit Luncheon To Be Given Friday.
Much interest centers around the bridge-luncheon to be given on Friday at the Masonic temple in West End by the Students' Aid and Tallulah Falls school committees of the Woman's Civic Club of West End. Luncheon will be served at 1 o'clock, featuring by the dancing of Tootsie Dunbar, graceful little dancer, who has received much favorable recognition.

Miss Gray Poole To Honor Visitor.
Among the lovely parties planned in compliment to Miss Elizabeth Beck, of Memphis, and her hostess, Miss Catherine Smith, will be the dinner-party at which Miss Gray Poole will entertain this evening at the midweek dance at the Biltmore hotel.

Mrs. Bower Will Be Honor Guest On February 11

Mrs. Adelaide Howell Bower will be honor guest at a luncheon given by Mrs. Norman Sharp Thursday at the Atlanta Woman's club.

Mrs. Bower has done much in the promotion of literature in the south, and has recently compiled and published a book of short stories by amateur writers, which is very unique and interesting. She is a member of the Howell family, so well known in literary circles of Georgia and other states, and is the daughter of Colonel Evan T. Howell, one of the founders of The Atlanta Constitution.

Her record in this line of work entitles her to distinction in the 1926 edition of "Who's Who."

Invited to the luncheon are friends of Mrs. Bower's and Mrs. Sharp's, who are especially interested in the promotion of southern literature, and include:

Mrs. Albert Howell, Jr., Mrs. Robert L. Foreman, Mrs. Thorneville Jacobs, Mrs. Frank Juman, Mrs. E. River, Mrs. Marion Harper, Mrs. James T. Williams, Mrs. Henry Inman, Mrs. Julius DeGivie, Mrs. Strother Flemming, Mrs. Asa Candler, Jr., Mrs. Dudley Cowles, Mrs. J. B. Nevins, Mrs. Marion Benson, Mrs. John R. Hornady, Mrs. Roger Wilson, Mrs. C. W. Martin, Mrs. T. G. Delph, Mrs. Paul Seidell, Mrs. J. B. McCarty, Mrs. Howard McCall, Mrs. Edward Van Winkle, Mrs. Omar S. Elder, Mrs. Lee Ashcraft, Mrs. K. K. Hambo and Mrs. Hal Hentz.

Mrs. Hulse Is Party Hostess.
Mrs. Seward W. Hulse was hostess at her quarters in Fort McPherson at a bridge-tee on Tuesday afternoon.

The party was in the nature of a farewell party as Lieutenant and Mrs. Hulse will leave soon for New York, where they will sail early in April for Honolulu.

Thirty guests were invited among them army set.

Many Social Affairs Honor Ceramic Visitors.
A series of social affairs were given Tuesday in honor of the visiting ladies accompanying the delegates in attendance on the National Ceramic convention in Atlanta. Over 100 prominent women were guests of honor at a bridge-luncheon given at the Atlanta Woman's club, afterward going for a motor ride throughout the residential part of Atlanta, and visiting the Cyclorama of the Battle of Atlanta.

Tuesday evening a brilliant reception was given at the Atlanta Woman's club and a program given afterward in the auditorium featured dialect readings by Mrs. Robert Blackburn; esthetic dancing by pupils of the Gertrude Kelley Laubright School of Dancing; readings by Mrs. M. S. Stueck, a pupil of the Morton school, "The White Silhouette," "Reprimanding Willie," etc. These numbers were written by Lewis J. Morton, especially for Mrs. Stueck. Miss Ethel Heyes, the president of the Organists' Guild of Atlanta, is the brilliant accompanist of Mrs. Susan Bowden Johnson, who was the vocalist of the evening.

A luncheon on Wednesday, taking place at the Henry Grady hotel, will compliment these visitors of national importance.

Business Woman's Circle To Meet.
The Business Woman's circle of the Westminster Presbyterian church will hold its monthly meeting on Thursday, February 11, at the church.

Mrs. Boyd To Give Lecture Readings.
In response to many requests Mrs. Emma Garrett Boyd, the honorary president of the Drama league, will give a brief set of lecture readings that are open, without fee, to all members of the Drama league and of the Woman's club.

The set will consist of three modern plays that have to do with the dominance of mind over body. The first play, William Vaughan Moody's "Faith Healer," will be given Wednesday morning, February 10, at 10 o'clock, at the Woman's club. The two succeeding plays will be Bjornson's "Beyond Human Power," which deals with another phase of mental healing, and the Masefield translation of Wiers-Jenssen's "Anne Pedersen's letter." The last named play is a powerful little drama, whose theme is what the middle ages called witchcraft and what modern science knows as hypnotism. In connection with the lecture readings there will be a general discussion of these vital and modern themes.

Shower Is Given Bride-Elect.
An interesting shower of the past week was one given by Mrs. Annie McCune in honor of Miss Pearl Fincher, whose wedding is to take place Thursday, the eleventh.

An appropriate contest was enjoyed by the guests, and the prize was won by the sister of the bride-elect.

DAILY CALENDAR OF SOCIAL EVENTS

The guests attending the ceramic convention will be entertained at luncheon at the Henry Grady hotel.

Mrs. Elizabeth Winslow Bates will entertain informally at luncheon at the Piedmont Driving club, honoring Mrs. John Raine.

The marriage of Miss Laura Jenkins and John R. Kruze will be an event taking place at the West End Baptist church at high noon.

The marriage of Miss Mary Elizabeth Snow and Eben Fletcher Tully will take place at 4 o'clock at the home of the bride's uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Thompson.

Mrs. Cator Woolford will entertain at tea, complimenting Miss Mary Bardwell, an attractive bride-elect.

Mrs. Bernice M. McFayden will entertain at a valentine bridge-tee at her home in College Park.

Mrs. Richard Taylor has issued invitations for the first of a series of bridge parties at home.

Miss Gray Poole will entertain at the dinner-dance at the Biltmore hotel, complimenting Miss Elizabeth Beck, the guest of Miss Catherine Smith.

Dinner-dance at the Atlanta Biltmore hotel.

A mid-season charity dance will be given by the hospital division of the Atlanta Woman's club this evening.

The Guild of the Church of Our Savior will entertain at a tea at the home of Mrs. A. E. McQuinn, at 31 Fairview road, from 4 to 6 o'clock.

The Agnes Scott Lecture association will present Count Byron Kuhs de Prorok this evening at 8:30 o'clock.

"Oh, Doctor," a pageant of the budget, will be presented in the auditorium of the First Presbyterian church this evening.

A large benefit bridge party will be given under the auspices of the Woman's Auxiliary of the Fulton County Medical society at the Ansley Hotel roof garden from 2:30 until 5 o'clock.

Mrs. LeRoy Wynne will entertain the members of her mah jong club at the Piedmont Driving club.

An enjoyable event of this evening will be a benefit dance, sponsored by the P. T. A. at St. Philip's chapter house on Hunter street, from 8 to 11 o'clock.

The Kle club, unit of B. P. O. E. No. 78, will hold its all-day social meeting at the home of Mrs. Louis J. Bailey, 100 Linwood place, instead of the Elks' club.

Medical Auxiliary Sponsors Party.
Much interest centers in the large benefit bridge party to be given at the Ansley Roof Garden this afternoon. The Woman's auxiliary to the Fulton Medical society is sponsoring this affair, and a most delightful afternoon is promised those who attend.

A large number of reservations have already been made. The price of tables is $2 and others desiring reservations may call Mrs. E. C. Thrash, Main 4400-J; Mrs. George Niles, Hemlock 2634, or Mrs. Clinton Reed, Hemlock 3573.

Mrs. Blum Honors Miss Elizabeth Bixby.
Mrs. C. J. Blum entertained in honor of Miss Elizabeth Bixby, bride-elect of this month, at a bridge shower at her home in Inman Park.

The shower of gifts were presented to Miss Bixby in a green and white basket, tied with tulle and pink roses. Mrs. Blum was assisted in entertaining by her mother, Mrs. W. S. Kuhlman. Miss Bixby was lovely in a frock of figured crepe. Mrs. Blum received her guests in a black panne velvet dress.

The guests were: Mesdames Walter Asbridge, A. S. Crumley, Paul Puckett, W. W. Hume, J. W. Foster, Marian Schane and Misses Mamie Blum, Dorothy Kuhlman, Ruby Wood, and Ruth Cruden.

Spring Street P. T. A. To Hold Meeting.
The regular monthly meeting of the Spring Street P. T. A. will be held Wednesday, February 10, at 8 o'clock in the afternoon in the school auditorium. An auction will be held at this meeting.

The parents are asked to bring or send their gifts attractively wrapped to the meeting. All mothers and friends of the school are cordially invited to attend.

Night Owls' Club Meets.
The semi-monthly meeting of the Night Owls' club was held Saturday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Matthews, 588 Woodward avenue. After the regular business meeting dancing, card playing and other amusements were enjoyed. Delightful refreshments were served after the meeting.

Inman Park Circle To Meet Friday.
Circle No. 6, Woman's Missionary society of Inman Park Methodist church, will meet with Mrs. N. W. Perkins, 1339 Highland avenue, Friday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock. Circle No. 9 will meet with Mrs. B. C. Bostwick, 109 Hurt street, Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

Habersham D. A. R. To Celebrate Georgia Day February 12th

The Joseph Habersham chapter, D. A. R., through its regent, Mrs. J. C. Gentry, cordially invites the Atlanta chapter, D. A. R.; the Piedmont Continental chapter, D. A. R.; and all other patriotic ladies to meet with it to celebrate Georgia day at the Fulton High school, corner of Washington street and Woodward avenue, February 12 at 1:30 o'clock. The speaker on this occasion will be Judge John D. Humphries.

The Georgia flag, owned by the Joseph Habersham chapter, D. A. R., will be carried to the podium, on which will be seated the patriotic societies and the speaker.

Georgia day was inaugurated through the efforts of Mrs. William Lawton Peel, regent of the Joseph Habersham chapter, D. A. R., at this time, and of Mrs. John M. Graham, Miss Irma Hamdy. The petition was presented to the state legislature, which acted favorably on it, making the day a legal holiday.

Mrs. Peel, after the passage of the act, presented every chapter in the state with a Georgia flag, which is made entirely of Georgia products—staff, buttons, etc.

The Fulton High school band will render delightful music during the program.

The public is cordially invited to be present.

Miss Bardwell Given Luncheon.
Miss Mary Bardwell whose wedding will be an interesting event, was honored Tuesday at a luncheon given by Mrs. James Floyd at her home on The Prado, in Ansley Park.

Covers were placed for Mrs. Floyd, Miss Bardwell, Miss Hermoine Walker, Miss Corday Rice, Mrs. Joe Walker, Mrs. Wayne Martin, Miss Ann Stokely, Mrs. George Weyman, Mrs. Oscar Oldknow, Miss Katherine Haverly, Miss Maude Couch, Miss Ruth Osburn and Miss Thana Erwin.

The next meeting will be with Mrs. Georgia Johnson on Park Place.

Miss Kessnich Is Luncheon Hostess.
Miss Elizabeth Beck, of Memphis, the guest of Miss Catherine Smith, was honored by Miss Anne Kessnich at luncheon Tuesday at the Capital City club.

Mrs. Wilson Weds Mr. Henry At Sacred Heart Church

Cordial interest centers in the announcement of the marriage of Mrs. Sene J. Wilson to Cornelius F. Henry, formerly of Rutherford, N. J., but a resident of Atlanta for several years, which took place Saturday morning, February 6, at 8 o'clock, in the Sacred Heart church.

Father Philip Hassen performed the ceremony in the presence of intimate friends and immediate relatives. The altar was artistically decorated with palms, and vases held narcissi, white carnations and pink roses.

Miss Katherine Dorsey was maid of honor and only attendant. She wore a becoming costume of midnight blue georgette crepe, and her hat matched her gown. She carried a bouquet of Ophelia roses.

The lovely bride wore a handsome gown of gray georgette crepe, and her hat was a French model of gray silk straw and ribbon combination trimmed with silk lace. Her flowers were Ophelia roses, valley lilies and orchids.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry left for New York and Atlantic City on their wedding journey, which will also include a visit to St. Louis. On their return to Atlanta, two weeks hence, they will make their home at the Canterbury Manor apartments on West Peachtree street.

Woman's Auxiliary Diocese of Atlanta.
The executive board of the Woman's Auxiliary Diocese of Atlanta, will meet at the home of the president, Miss Lucinda Snook, 103 Cleburne avenue, Thursday morning, February 11, at 11 o'clock.

Many Nationalities Make Up Minneapolis Orchestra Symphony Symposium

BY BEVERLY BURGESS.

Were you present Monday night at the Minneapolis Symphony orchestra concert at the auditorium you would undoubtedly feel again, in an overwhelming sense, your deep obligation to the Atlanta Music club for such an opportunity as was herein afforded.

These wonderful women, under the magnificent leadership of Mrs. Cliff Hatcher, have done much in their strong purpose of lifting a vast population to a deeper appreciation of this, the greatest of all the fine arts—music!

The spiritual uplift of such work as this far exceeds the usual thought connected with it!

For—unlike the other arts, but, perhaps, in a more elemental sense—music has its own specific relation, peculiar unto itself, to all life. From the lowest savage to the most cultured, from the babe in arms, in his little sways to rhythm and melody.

Driving Club Guests To Receive Valentines

The management of the Piedmont Driving club announces that all who desire to send Valentines to guests attending the Valentine ball at the club on the evening of February 12 may leave them at the club. They will be delivered to the guests at the tables by Miss Helen Lowndes and Louisa Robert.

only, to those of greater maturity, music is the universal expression. And the language of all nations is it.

An International Ensemble.

In this wonderful Minnesota orchestra Monday night of nearly one hundred pieces almost twenty-five different nations were represented. What of the national temperamental characteristics that were here brought in interpretation of this splendid program?

Do you think Wagner's overture to "Die Meistersinger" and his "Prelude and Liebestod" from "Tristan and Isolde," in their majestic structures and arabesques, could have meant the same alike in the consciousness of Herr von Schneider and Signor Riccardo, to Don Maximilian and Monsieur Pinchot?

The Alchemy of Art.

Under the magic baton of Henri Verbrughe one felt the sublimated skill of each of these great technical giants and true artists, fused into one great harmonious symposium.

To nationally differing temperamental expression, each instrument may have responded, but only a great beautiful whole was heard. There was the inexhaustible residuum of a sustained dignity and grandeur impossible of being excelled.

In the presence of the sublime one felt oneself to be from the first note of the program to the last!

Chopin's Polonaise in A flat was irresistible in its many charming scintillations.

Of the encores, two there were, that gave especial pleasure—Scherzo's "Marche Militaire" and "Moment Musical"—the latter being the very personification of daintiness of technique, while the strong, bold, martial strokes of the "Marche Militaire" swept the audience entirely.

At the close of the program and after there had been the courtesy of several encores, the audience still remained seated, clamoring for more and yet more.

Such an expression of appreciation was proper and fitting, for had not the great conductor carried the audience out of the finite into the very infinite itself?

The Greater Motif.

As one sat awe-struck altogether before the subtle touch of this master-baton in its fusion of strains, differing so in national temperamental phases, one was made to think that herein was a symbolism of the fusing of the tremendous scheme of the universe, in its multiplicity of motifs and circles beyond circles of Divine purposes, being sublimated unceasingly by an invisible baton in the great Eternal Hand.

A Chicago Visitor.

One of Atlanta's dear girls who, a few years ago, married and left us is home for a visit—Evalyn Stephens Aldenderfer, of Chicago.

Back these run-arounds will come trekking about once a year to see family and friends and, of course, there is some compensation in this, but even this does not make what they have done all right!

Evalyn Stephens was always a delightful figure in Atlanta society during her Atlanta days. After finishing school here, she went to Boston to the conservatory and came home to have the honor of the presidency of the Little Theater Guild conferred upon her. This she filled with much distinction until she was married to Ray Aldenderfer, formerly a St. Paul boy, but at present residing in Chicago.

Evalyn's hosts of Atlanta friends always accord her a most cordial welcome and there have been many beautiful and informal parties given in her honor.

She is the guest of her mother, Mrs. Luther Stephens.

The GILDED ROSE

BY MAY CHRISTIE

CHAPTER 63.

In the Pool. Briscoe eyed her sharply in the dim-lit cave. It occurred to him that she wasn't lying, and relief caught him, so that his grip on Marietta's shoulders loosened.

"You Spanish women are so frantic when you're jealous that the thought of being shadowed by you wasn't too agreeable! That's a fact!" His glance left her face and went round the cavern. "These caves are specimens of sea-gulls' eggs and cliff plants. We keep the place private. I don't want its whereabouts blazoned abroad. Do you understand me, Marietta?"

"Yes. Anything you say, I didn't mean to intrude. Her air was puzzled, just the same. Those great caves! Odd, wasn't it?"

"It's a sort of naturalists' society," went on Briscoe, in staccato tones. "We meet here, and naturally we don't want the village rubes nosing around. So you'll give me your word, Marietta, that you'll keep mum about it?"

"You can trust me," she replied, her great eyes like pools of tragedy. "If I could only trust you in the same way."

Had she guessed the real reason of the subterranean hiding place, he wondered angrily. Or was this merely a further irritating reminder of the fact that he had tired of her?

"What a fool he'd been, to leave the rope ladder for a moment where she had found it, or the heavy door ajar!"

"Come on, girl! We're going!" He led her back into the inner cavern, and climbed the ladder with her going on in front, to see if the coast above ground was quite clear.

It was. "I'm going to put you on the train back to New York, Marietta. It was wrong of you to come down here."

"Will you come back with me?" She regarded him with a doe-like faithfulness. He might relent, even at the eleventh hour.

He caught at the excuse of Van Vorst.

"Not likely, after what occurred the last time! It was a bit thick, as even you'll admit! After midnight, and he walks in as though he owned the place—which he obviously did!"

"Oh, Rupert, I tell you—" "Be sensible, girl! I'm no one's fool, not even yours!"

"But Steve Van Vorst is nothing to me. He never was, and never will be."

Briscoe's lip curled cynically. "Then you're stupider than I take you for, that's all. You ought to make hay while the sun shines, and mend—because, frankly, I haven't got the time to devote to you, nor yet the money—and Steve Van Vorst has both. You go ahead and play your cards well—and I wish you luck!"

She was silent as he bought her ticket and put her on the train.

"Bye-bye, Marietta! Bear my advice in mind, and be a sensible woman."

The train steamed off, and he called a taxi, telling the driver to head for Royal Cliff.

"Does she suspect anything?" he wondered, his thoughts reverting to the unfortunate cave incident. "If so, precautions must be taken—quickly. There's no time to lose!"

The "house warming" was in progress at Royal Cliff the following night, and no one was gayer among the guests than Lydia Harbrook.

She literally scintillated. In all the throng there was but one person other than herself who knew the source of that amazing gaiety. Lydia hated the person for that knowledge, and the only check upon her triumph—for indeed she did achieve a social triumph, being surrounded by partners and made much of—was the occasional clear, comprehending glance of her young hostess.

Yes, she hated Rosilyn Ridgeway, and would do her an ill turn if she could.

It made her all the angrier, too, that the girl had had it in her power to yield forgiveness for the insults Lydia had tried to heap upon her.

Then the discovery of the drug secret had—in saner moments—disconcerted Lydia vastly.

Would Rosilyn—despite her promises to the contrary—"give the show away?"

Lydia—in the other's place—would certainly have delighted in exposure. No doubt Madame Rosilyn had some trump card up her sleeve!

The grounds of the estate were exquisitely illuminated, and the new outdoor swimming pool looked lovely with the colored lights playing upon the surface of the water.

It was Lydia Harbrook—leader in recklessness—who "dared" the others to a plunge, and—forsaking the ballroom for a period—slipped into an ultra-French swimming suit, and led the party to the pool.

Without consulting her hostess as to the propriety of all this, she commanded a couple of her swains to bring drinks—many and potent—to the raft that edged the water, and there officiated as a bar-maid, mixing weird concoctions that gave weird effects upon the consumers!

"Go easy, Lydia!" Landis adjured her once.

She was sitting on the raft with her legs trailing in the water, a couple of men in swimming suits beside her.

HIGH LIGHTS OF HISTORY

The Second Continental Congress

by J. CARROLL MANSFIELD

THIS CONGRESS CONTINUED IN SESSION FOR NEARLY SIX YEARS (1775-1781).

ON MAY 10, 1775 (THE DAY ON WHICH ETHAN ALLEN CAPTURED TICONDEROGA) THE SECOND CONTINENTAL CONGRESS MET IN PHILADELPHIA. THIS BODY DREW UP A RESOLUTION SHOWING WHY THE COLONIES MUST FIGHT, SENT A LAST PETITION TO THE KING, AND AUTHORIZED A CONTINENTAL ARMY WHICH WAS TO BE COMMANDED BY WASHINGTON.

THAT SAME MONTH GENERAL GAGE WAS REINFORCED BY THE ARRIVAL OF 6000 BRITISH REGULARS UNDER GENERAL HOWE AND CLINTON. IN JUNE HE ISSUED A PROCLAMATION WARNING THAT ALL REBELS WOULD BE HANGED AND OFFERING PARDON TO ALL WHO WOULD SUBMIT TO THE CROWN.

IN CAMBRIDGE THE WORK OF DEVELOPING THE RAW MILITIA INTO AN ARMY OF WELL DRILLED AND DISCIPLINED TROOPS WENT ON. MARKSMEN PRACTISED AT TARGETS ON WHICH WAS PAINTED A RUDE LIKENESS OF GENERAL GAGE, WHICH GAVE RISE TO THE EXPRESSION "NOW, GENERAL GAGE, LOOK OUT FOR YOUR NOSE."

GENERAL GAGE, NOW CONFIDENT THAT HE HAD A FORCE AT HIS COMMAND LARGE ENOUGH TO COPE WITH THE REBEL ARMY, DECIDED TO SEIZE THE HILLS BACK OF CHARLESTOWN ACROSS THE BAY WHICH IF OCCUPIED BY THE AMERICANS WOULD MENACE THE TOWN OF BOSTON.

Several informal parties will be given in compliment to these visitors.

A. M. Byrnes, of Columbus, Miss., is a guest at the Hotel Georgian Terrace.

CONSTIPATION WRECKS HEALTH

Get sure, permanent relief with Kellogg's ALL-BRAN

Don't let this hideous disease wreck your health with its poisons. Constipation may be the father of more than forty ills and ailments. Yet there is an easy way to relief and health—read Mr. Herman's letter:

"Your Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is wonderful. I had been suffering with constipation for thirty years and was all knuckled out, hardly able to work. I have been using your ALL-BRAN for six months and I am a well man, feel fine, and as regular as a clock. I don't know how I could live without my bran."

H. T. HERMAN, Healing Springs, Virginia.

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is guaranteed to permanently relieve constipation if regularly eaten, because it is 100% bran. Eat two tablespoonsful a day—in chronic cases, with every meal.

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is a delicious ready-to-eat cereal. Serve it with milk or fruit. Use it in cooking. Delicious recipes on the package. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek, Michigan. Sold by all grocers. Served everywhere.

An Interrupted Tete-a-Tete.

Hargrave held Violet's hand affectionately. The depression which he had felt coming down the hill had vanished.

"Why not pretend?" he agreed. "If the marchesa is there looking the most wonderful thing on earth, you won't even see her. If the princess comes to claim you, it will be too late. If Mademoiselle Diane sends you one of those hateful little notes, you must be firm."

"The fates are with us," he confided. "I saw Nina di Beni talking with Trentino last night, and I believe they're going to make it up. Mademoiselle Diane has gone over to Cannes with the duke and the princess—she invites herself to dine, by-the-by is going to the ball with the potentates of the place."

Luncheon was announced.

"Is Robert coming?" Hargrave asked as they rose.

"He has gone to Beaulieu with Sadie," she replied—"and those dear men wouldn't stop. A tete-a-tete luncheon! What fun!"

She broke off suddenly. A familiar automobile with two men on the front, wearing the Putzka livery, had turned in at the gate. The princess leaned a little forward to wave her hand.

With the unexpected arrival of the princess, Hargrave's genius in all matters of social import asserted itself. He welcomed her, bareheaded, at the foot of the steps.

"You do me great honor, princess," he said, as he assisted her to alight, and raised her fingers to his lips. "You are from Rome?"

He welcomed her bareheaded at the foot of the steps.

"And starving," she answered. "We should have reached here last night, but for some slight mishaps. As it was, we only entered the harbor half an hour ago. I have wirelessed for the car, and I was torn between two decisions. You see which way I leaned."

"Lunch is already served," he told her.

"And I have come straight from my cabin," she confided. "The night was fairly pleasant. All that I need to restore me, though, is a glass of your wonderful white wine, and I hope one of your omelettes. The child is still with you, I see," she went on in an undertone.

"Miss Martin remains, also her brother," he said. "For luncheon we have only Miss Violet."

She sighed.

"A tete-a-tete would have been wonderful," she murmured—"but afterwards!"

The princess greeted Violet pleasantly, and sank into her place at Hargrave's right hand with a little gesture of relief.

"I am a good sailor," she said, "but a stable room, and such a room as this, gives me pleasure. Do you think me greedy, please?" she added, as she picked up the menu and studied it with the aid of a pendant eyeglass. "My chef on the yacht must leave. His cooking gives me no pleasure. Did I know, I wonder, when I made my decision, Hargrave, that your chef had decided upon omelette aux points d'esperge this morning—absolutely my favorite. I regret no longer leaving Fedora to await my return in vain."

Luncheon proceeded pleasantly. The princess, with swift tact, had changed from French to English for Violet's sake.

"Fedora," she declared, "is at her best when she discusses you. Hargrave. You are apparently the most hopeful study in her peculiar branch of psychology she has met with for ages. She declares that it is worth while to have traveled from Hungary to have met you. There is a word in your language, isn't there—'fey'?"

"It exists without a doubt," Hargrave confessed.

"Then you, dear man," the princess continued, "are 'fey.' As to what it means I am a little doubtful, but there is a link between you and another stage of existence to be apprehended by such people as Fedora, not by the world. Does it terrify you?"

"Not greatly."

"Nevertheless it is rather alarming. Are you superstitious, Miss Martin?"

"Not about Sir Hargrave," Violet replied firmly.

"Fedora is so mysterious," the princess sighed. "I really cannot quite make out what this intimacy between Sir Hargrave and a future state means. At first I believe she found it sinister. Since then she herself seems doubtful. On one point she is decided: no outside agency can harm you. To hear her rhapsodize sometimes, one would think assassins had been on your track."

"You need not be disturbed, Miss Martin," the princess added, noticing Violet's startled expression. "These assaults, according to Fedora, have not been able to and will not be able to do any harm. Not until some crisis happens in your life which at the present moment Fedora is probably worrying about with two or three Rosierian books, a crystal and a few other impediments, will you be able to lose at cards, with my sex, or in any other enterprise. But I am afraid this bores you, Hargrave."

"I find it immensely interesting," he assured her.

"Then it bores me," she declared. "Tell me what has happened in Monte Carlo whilst I have been away."

"Naturally nothing," he answered.

"You ought certainly to have been a diplomat," she told him.

"You would have made a successful ambassador to one of those countries where the prime minister's mistress rules and the queen is complaisant."

"Those countries do not exist any longer," Hargrave complained.

"Their time will come again," the princess predicted.

"But mine will not," he sighed. "There's very little use starting a new career on the wrong side of forty."

"On the contrary," she rejoined. "I have a theory that at forty the really adventurous stage of a man's life commences. He has lost the callousness of youth, he has the experience which attracts. He has made up his mind what he wants. He is still young enough to appreciate it. It interests me, Hargrave, to know that forty is your age, especially when I consider how Fedora is worrying about you."

She regarded him for a moment or two almost affectionately.

"Yes," she repeated, half to herself, "forty for a man is the age of crises. Do you feel that?"

"I have felt it coming on for weeks," he replied. "My birthday will be the first of next month."

"We must celebrate," she said.

"In the meanwhile," he ventured, "what about Rome?"

Her face for a moment clouded.

"There were complications," she admitted. "Rome we must discuss a little later. I came here, in fact, to ask your advice."

Atlanta is famous for its skyline of fine Office Buildings

Facts about ATLANTA

Atlanta is southern and southeastern headquarters for more foreign concerns than perhaps any other two, or three southern cities combined. From the East, the North, the West, in fact from every section, America's greatest concerns are housed in Atlanta's office buildings, with Atlanta as their distributing point for the South.

Atlanta's growth absorbs 100,000 square feet of office space annually. Atlanta has 6.5 square feet of office space per capita, which is, with the exception of San Francisco, the highest percentage of any city in the United States.

Atlanta is one of the few cities of the United States to maintain an Association of Building Owners and Managers with an executive secretary and assistant. The Atlanta Association is affiliated with the National Association of Building Owners and Managers, thereby keeping abreast at all times with modern methods of office building operation and management.

New Orleans, with 16 buildings totaling 1,197,430 square feet of rentable space, is the nearest southern city to Atlanta's claim of 44 buildings with 2,315,770 square feet of space.

Atlanta has 44 office buildings. Total number of offices, 8,205. Total rentable area, square feet, 2,315,770. Total number of elevators in the 44 buildings, 135.

A careful survey of travel on the elevators shows that more than 150,000 people ride them daily. More miles are traveled daily on elevators in Atlanta than in the entire 255 miles of Atlanta's street railway system. The population of Atlanta's office buildings, tenants and employees only, is, at present, approximately 23,000.

In the new Hurt, Atlanta has the largest office building south of New York City, and is ranked the fifteenth largest in the United States. It has 1,100 offices with 425,000 square feet of rentable space and 16 elevators.

Atlanta's office buildings as compared with cities of greater population:

CITY	Population 1920	Number of Buildings	Number of Square Feet
Atlanta	200,616	44	2,315,770
Buffalo	506,775	20	1,617,721
Denver	256,491	23	1,109,621
Indianapolis	314,194	33	2,074,611
Louisville	234,891	12	610,973
New Orleans	387,219	16	1,197,430
Seattle	315,312	46	2,220,314
Portland, (Or)	258,288	41	1,743,588
St. Paul	234,698	17	1,637,690

ATLANTA was early blessed with men who looked adown the years and saw the city that was to be. They recognized the necessity of providing here the buildings which would house the ultimate business development of the South. They went deep into the earth to lay the foundations of the skyscrapers which today cluster about the heart of Atlanta's downtown district. Indeed, they laid the foundations of these magnificent structures on the indestructible strata of Stone Mountain which lie as a perpetual guarantee of security beneath the city's rushing feet.

*"In the elder days of Art
Builders wrought with greatest care
Each minute and unseen part;
For the gods see everywhere."*

Nowhere in the South can be found so many massive office buildings as in Atlanta. Few cities throughout the United States can boast such beautiful, such substantial, such commodious office buildings. Thus it is that Atlanta has come to be known as the SOUTH'S LEADING OFFICE BUILDING CITY.

In 1892, Atlanta, with a population of 65,000 saw its first modern class "A" office building, which was then the Equitable, now the Trust Company of Georgia. When in course of erection with its immense steel frame going higher and higher each day, passers-by would stop and gaze with amazement at the great undertaking of the late Mr. Joel Hurt, Sr., who was promoting its erection. "Why there're not enough business concerns in the state of Georgia to fill it," some would say, while others thought Mr. Hurt a fit subject for the insane asylum. A year later when the finishing touches were made and the building ready for occupancy, every inch of the 144,000 square feet of rentable space of the building was taken and other business concerns clamoring to get in.

In 1894 the Grand was erected; in 1897, the English-American, now the Georgia Savings Bank building and the Austell building were erected. From then on big buildings came thick and fast, with three erected in 1901; namely, the Grant, Atlanta National Bank, and Peters. In 1902 the Atlanta Trust Company building was erected. In 1904 the Fourth National Bank, in 1906 the Candler, in 1910 the Forsyth, the American Savings Bank, the Rhodes and the Walton, in 1911 the Citizens and Southern Bank, 1913 the Healey and the Hurt, in 1915 the Connally, in 1917 the Arcade, in 1918 the Brown, in 1921 the Metropolitan and the Palmer, in 1922 the Haas-Howell, in 1923 the Glenn, the Bona Allen, the McGlawn-Bowen, Commercial Exchange and Red Rock. In 1924 the 101 Marietta Street and Wynne-Claughton, and 1925 finished the Hurt, the South's largest building.

The above buildings are all known as Class "A" office buildings. There are two other such buildings now under construction in Atlanta, the Norris building and the Mansion building on Peachtree street. In addition to these class "A" buildings, there are many smaller, but altogether desirable office buildings in the city, such as the Chamber of Commerce building, the Gould building, the Bolling Jones building, the Silvey building, the Doctors' building, the Candler annex, and many others. 1926 will likely see several other Class "A" office buildings started in Atlanta.

George Denies He Will Accept Post of Judge

Washington, February 9.—(Special.)—Senator George, in a statement issued Tuesday from his office, said that he would not accept appointment as judge of the new judicial district proposed for Georgia if he were eligible or if it were offered him.

The statement was issued in denial of published reports indicating that the senator might be offered the judgeship.

These reports, George said, "are founded upon a misapprehension of the law."

"It is pointed out," he explained, "that under the present law members of congress cannot accept appointment to federal offices created by congress during their tenure of office."

Senator George is up for reelection this year, his term expiring March 4, 1927. He has made no announcement of his intentions, but it is understood that he will enter the race.

There is still a disagreement in the Georgia delegation over a bill proposed by Senator George to amend the Georgia constitution to allow members of congress to accept appointment to federal offices during their tenure of office.

SOUTH SIDE VOTERS INDORSE CANDIDATES

Organization of the South Fulton Improvement league was perfected Tuesday night at a mass meeting of about 500 citizens of East Point, College Park, Hapeville and other sections of East Point city hall.

After preliminaries, the association decided to indorse the candidacies of Edwin F. Johnson, Paul Etheridge and Charles E. Turner for county commissioners and offered to support W. B. Stewart, of Hapeville, to fill the unexpired term of J. N. Ragdale, who intends to make the race for mayor.

Officers of the organization are: Mayor Hugh Couch, of College Park, president; trade insurance without paying their rates. Many of the merchants turned away were from out of town.

Law Hahn, treasurer of the association, in a speech said that only 2,000 of 7,000 merchants on the books are members of the association, and suggested that the books be closed in 30 days and a membership badge adopted. He added that it is time to close the association to "that group failing to pay $10 a year for membership."

4 SPANISH AIRMEN NEARING THEIR GOAL
Montevideo, Uruguay, February 9.—(AP)—Four Spanish airmen—Commander Franco, Captain Ruise de Alca, Ensign Duran and Pablo Rada, mechanic—King Alfonso's ambassadors of the air, today completed another perilous lap of their flight from Spain to Argentina, and are now less than 200 miles distant from their goal—Buenos Aires.

NINETEEN YOUTHS GIVEN FLOGGINGS IN COUNTY COURT
(By Leased Wire to The Constitution and The Chicago Tribune.)
Miami, Okla., February 9.—Nineteen boys, ranging in age from 11 to 17, confessed members of "The Milk Raiders," were given floggings in the county court here on order of W. Thomas, county judge.

The boys confessed to a series of petty thefts and were given their choice of a public whipping or sentence to the state reformatory. The judge supplied hickory sticks for the ceremony and the parents did the flogging. Additional punishment includes sentence to attend school every day, make passing grades, attend Sunday school regularly, and remain at home each night after 6 o'clock.

Judge Thomas is a believer in the movement fostered by Federal Judge R. L. Williams, of Muskogee, for the return of the whipping post as a punishment for criminals.

INVENTOR OF AERIAL SMOKE SCREEN DIES
Chicago, February 9.—(AP)—Dr. Thomas Buckhine, 38, nationally known chemist and inventor of the aerial smoke screen method of hiding troops and ship movements during the world war, is dead of pneumonia at his home in Western Springs, a suburb.
